State Blames Arsonist In Legion Fire

Officers Continue Probe

Find Turpentine At Blaze Scene

C. R. LaMonda, chief of the arson bureau of the State fire marshal's office in Columbus, said today the Thursday morning fire at Richland Post 72, American Legion was purposefully started.

LaMonda said evidence found at the scene of the fire by state fire investigators convinced him it was arson.

Investigation of the fire, which destroyed all furnishings and a major portion of the second-floor rooms at 217½ North Diamond street, is being conducted by the state fire marshal's office in cooperation with city detectives.

LaMonda verified the reports that bottles containing turpentine had been found in the ruins. He said samples had been turned over to the state laboratory for tests.

From preliminary reports on the fire, LaMonda added that he believed the blaze was started in the kitchen of the clubrooms.

Firemen from Central and No. 2 stations answered the call to the Legion post at 2:35 a. m. on a call from a boy whose identity was not learned. The building was unoccupied when firemen arrived.

Fire Chief L. J. Steele requested an investigation by the state after a preliminary inspection of the damage indicated arson.

The Post 72 room has been used only in recent years since the new Legion post was organized after World War II.

Japanese Reds Riot

Violence Marks Fresh Outbreak

TOKYO — (UP) — Communist-led rioters seized a police station and held it for eight hours last night in a Fukushima prefecture town north of Tokyo.

Japanese press reports said 600 to 700 demonstrators, led by a brass band, overpowered the small police force in the coal town of Taira and raised red flags outside the station.

The rioters were said to have beaten five policemen severely and smashed windows and furniture. They freed a communist prisoner and locked up one policeman. Five demonstrators were injured during the fighting, two of them severely.

Another group of communists broke into the prefectural assembly hall in Fukushima city, overpowered guards and waved red flags from the visitors' gallary. Four of the communists were arrested.

Still another communist crowd demonstrated in front of the police station in Koriyana, largest industrial city in the prefecture.

At Osaka, big industrial center south of Tokyo, communist-led workers barricaded themselves inside the Senshu plant of the Kawasaki heavy industries company and announced they were prepared for a long siege.

Atom Carrier Will Go To Smithsonian

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The plane which dropped the first atomic bomb on Hiroshima is slated today to take its place in the Smithsonian institution.

Among other historic aircraft, the Wright brothers' "Kitty Hawk" and Charles A. Lindbergh's "Spirit of St. Louis" already are on display at the Smithsonian.

The atom bombing plane, the "Enola Gay," is scheduled to be transferred to the institution by the air force at ceremonies in Chicago next Sunday.

Canines Eat Their Way Into Court

COLUMBUS —(INS)— "One lot of dogs" valued at $5,000 literally ate themselves into the arms of a court keeper.

Judge John R. King yesterday appointed Samuel Brodbelt of Columbus as receiver for 39 pedigreed dogs, claimed by Reynoldsburg Kennel owner Carl Vickers to have eaten up almost $1,000 worth of food.

Vickers claimed their owner, Florence C. Seldman of Springfield, did not pay their bill.

Showers Give Slight Heat Relief

Crestline Hit By Heavy Storm

Sweltering Mansfield will get relief from the heat Saturday, but the heat is ready to move right back in again.

The weatherman said a slight drop in temperature and lower humidity readings are in prospect for tomorrow: Sunday and Monday will be hot again, he said.

Mansfielders were a little cooler last night after thundershowers swept the city in the afternoon, bringing a quarter inch of rain. The high temperature yesterday at the airport was 87.

A five-minute storm shortly after 5 p. m. yesterday caused heavy damage in Crestline. Electric power and telephone lines were blown down and trees were uprooted. A large tree crashed into the corner of the roof of the old fire house on East Main street, damaging the building. Several streets were blocked by trees.

Yesterday temperatures once more topped the 90-mark in many places, Findlay recording a 95, Cincinnati 94 and Cleveland, Toledo and Chesapeake 93 each.

Ten persons collapsed from the heat in Cincinnati, one while swimming in the Ohio river.

Some minor damage was caused in Garfield Heights, a Cleveland suburb, during a severe thunderstorm yesterday.

According to weatherman the day climaxed the hottest June in the 78-year history of the Cleveland weather bureau. It was the 25 day of the month that the official thermometer read 80 or more.

June's daily average this year was a scorching 74.1. Nearest to this record was June 1943, 73.7, and June 1934, 73.6.

The weather bureau's five-day forecast follows:

Temperatures will average two to six degrees above normal. Rather hot during period with little change indicated. Humid throughout area by Sunday. Fair weather most of time with little or no precipitation indicated.

China Takes Firm Stand

CANTON, China — (UP) — China served notice today that it will enforce the "closure" of communist-held Chinese ports whether the United States likes it or not.

The Chinese nationalist government made known its attitude in a bluntly-worded reply to an American protest that nationalist "closure" of Shanghai and other communist-held ports is illegal.

The reply was handed late yesterday to U. S. Minister Lewis Clark and published by the government today. China is expected to reply in similar terms to a British protest tomorrow.

The reply addressed to the United States implied that the government intends to continue its air attacks on communist-held ports and perhaps even mine their approaches regardless of the danger to American and other foreign ships. A British freighter was bombed by nationalist planes and forced to beach off Shanghai last week.

MEDIATION TRY FAILS

MARION — (INS) — The federal mediation service, after trying vainly to end the 85-day-old Marion telephone strike, was out today.

Denies Shooting At Moore

Suspect Pleads Not Guilty

Eddie Moore, 39, of Miller street, who was held as suspect in the fatal shooting of Solomon Moore, 40, of 136½ Adams street, appeared in municipal court today on a charge with shooting with the intent to wound.

A plea of not guilty to the charge was entered by Eddie Moore's attorney, Lydon H. Beam. The hearing was continued to July 7, by Municipal Judge H. H. Schettler. Both the defense attorney and the prosecutor attorney requested the continuance. Bond was set at $3,000.

The defendent was held on investigation from shortly after Solomon Moore was fatally shot by a Mansfield policeman last Monday evening to yesterday afternoon when he was booked for shooting with the intent to wound.

Prosecuting Attorney Harold Lutz, in a statement yesterday said the police investigation had disclosed the fatal shot was fired by a police officer.

OFFICERS KEEP SILENCE

Officers Charles Letizia and Joseph Greving, who investigated the report of trouble at the North Adams street apartment declined to say which one of them fired the shot.

Detective Bruce Friday said that information "would have to come from the chief." Chief Jesse J. Schwab could not be reached for comment.

The police report follows:

The police officers were called by Mrs. Daisy Vinson, of 132 North Adams street, who said there were two men threatening each other with guns.

Police investigation showed Solomon Moore, of 136½ North Adams street, and Eddie Moore, of Miller street, no relation, had an argument, and that Eddie Moore had gone home to get a gun.

The police officers took a shotgun from Solomon Moore's apartment and told him to stay in the apartment and that they would pick up Eddie Moore for investigation.

However, Solomon Moore left the apartment while police were questioning other residents in the building.

Mrs. Vinson, a sister of Solomon Moore, came back in the apartment building and told officers that Solomon Moore and Eddie Moore "were at it again" in the back yard.

The two officers went out the back door of the building and a shot was fired. Both officers drew their revolvers and took up positions.

It was dark and they could not see anyone. They heard a voice say "Come any closer and I'll kill you."

One of the officers fired in the direction of the voice.

Both officers proceeded forward and saw both Solomon and Eddie Moore. Later they found a revolver which police say was one that fired the first shot.

The detectives conducting the police investigation took the bullet from a barrel near Moore's body to the bureau of criminal identification and investigation at London, Ohio, where it was found the bullet came from one of the officers' guns.

Wheat Parity Set At $1.95

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The Agriculture department is committed to support this year's wheat crop at a national average of $1.95 a bushel — five cents a bushel below 1948.

The department ruled that the July 1 parity price for 1949 wheat is $2.17 a bushel. The government is required by law to support wheat by purchases and loans at 90 percent of this figure.

The parity price is a figure determined by the government to be equally fair to farmers and consumers, alike. The figure also is supposed to give farmers the same purchasing power for each bushel of wheat now that they had in 1910-1914.

ELKS PICNIC — Yesterday's rain cleared in time for 325 Elks club members to enjoy their picnic dinner and evening activities at GBU park. In the top photo, left to right, are Robert Phipps and Robert Anderson ignoring the dampness and sneaking a pre-dinner dessert of watermelon from Edward Sutter and Willis Park. The photo at the right shows, left to right, Albert Schwein, Fred Tonnemacher, Walter "Whitey" Ryan and Charles Duff taking it easy with a game of cards since it was too damp outside. An enormous chicken dinner topped the evening's program and was followed by games with prizes given. Refreshments were served later. Stewart Watson and his get-together band furnished music. William Miller was in charge of the evening arrangements.

Fourth Brings Week-End 'Break'

Thousands Prepare For 3-Day Holiday

Thousands of Mansfield residents today will get a jump on the field as they start to celebrate the Fourth of July week-end. It will be a three-day vacation for persons not working Saturday.

Public offices, department stores, factories and most business firms will be closed Monday as Mansfield residents prepare to celebrate the Fourth of July.

Many persons are expected to start holiday trips tonight. Advance reports indicate highways will be jammed by motorists taking advantage of the holiday week end to visit relatives and friends.

Railroad, bus and air travel are also expected to be taxed to capacity. Many Mansfield residents are also planning lake trips for the three-day week end.

Picnic grounds and golf courses will probably see their biggest crowds this year. The weatherman's forecast of hot weather on Monday will send thousands to the beaches on swimming and sunning expeditions.

No mail deliveries will be made Monday, by foot carriers, or on mounted and rural routes from the Mansfield post office, Curtis L. Ford, acting postmaster, said today. Special deliveries and perishables will be delivered as usual.

The regular holiday collection schedule will be in effect, with the business collection starting at 8 a. m., the combined business and residential collection at noon, and the final business collection at 7 p. m.

No softball league games will be held Monday, but the Penn Auto-Sporting Goods hardball team will play Tiffin at Blue Goose park at 2:30 p. m.

For those who prefer to spend the holiday at home, the Mansfield Parks association will offer an elaborate show of fireworks at Arlin field. The program will open at 7:30 p. m Monday evening, climaxed with fireworks at 9 p. m.

Flays Violations Of Human Rights

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The State department disclosed today that this country has charged Russia with disregarding human rights terms of the peace treaties with Bulgaria, Hungary and Romania.

The department accused Russia in a note sent yesterday of refusing to cooperate in efforts to make the three Soviet satellite states grant political and religious freedoms to their citizens. Russia in a note on June 11 rejected the American and British view that the human rights dispute should be settled under the terms of the peace treaty.

More Derby Time Given

Entry Deadline Extended 8 Days

Mansfield and area youngsters from 11 to 15 years of age have until July 9 to sign up for the eighth annual News - Journal Soap Box Derby.

In making the announcement of the extension of the entry deadline, Bob Moore, co-director of the big amateur racing event, said that youngsters still have plenty of time to construct racers for the July 23 Derby. The race will be staged on Route 30-N, west of Mansfield.

Forty-nine youths have already signed for the Mansfield Derby. The 1949 field will be vying for a prize list which exceeds $1,000 with the winner getting a four-day all-expenses paid trip to the national finals in Akron Aug. 14.

All of the youngsters who compete will be taken to Akron to watch the Mansfield champ and 150 other titleholders race for the huge Akron prize list.

Mansfield competitors may sign at Brandenburg Chevrolet company, co-sponsors of the local Derby with the News-Journal.

Other registration centers are: Gump Motor sales, Shelby; Crawford Motor sales, Crestline; Plymouth Advertiser (Mrs. Helen Thomas); Ontario Shell station (Carl Laubscher) and Bellville Shell station (Earl Kochheiser).

Noisy, Liberal and Unpredictable

Ohio Assembly Wins Variety of Titles

COLUMBUS — (UP) — The Ohio legislature will probably finish its work this month—the seventh of the current session—but your guess as to the date is as good as anyone's today.

Already the legislature is being called—

The most noisy.

The most closely divided of recent years.

The most liberal.

The most troubled in the matter of finances.

The most unpredictable.

The list could go on. But when the legislature returns July 5 from its holiday weekend the principal financial problems will come to a head. As of today the state does not have a nickel available to pay its operating expenses.

Because of the multitude of controversial issues, the lower house probably has established a record for recent sessions on the number of outbreaks, vociferous dissent, parliamentary squabbles and arguments.

The noise also is tied in closely with the very thin margin of control which the Democratic party has in both houses.

Legislative leaders of the majority party have not been able to cement party lines with the result that almost every controversial issue is in doubt until the roll call is taken.

And this close division makes the legislature the most unpredictable. A bill killed today may be reconsidered and passed tomorrow.

Children's Home Is 'Hazard'

Probate Judge Stuart H. Cramer's campaign for a juvenile detention home in Richland county hit a new snag today when the state ruled out the third floor of the Children's home as a possible site and called the Children's home a fire hazard.

County Commission Chairman Guy L. Stewart received an order from the state fire marshal that the "third floor of the Children's home is not to be used as a detention home."

Judge Cramer previously had asked the commissioners to consider the third floor for a juvenile home.

Fire Marshal Harry J. Callan also called the Hedges street Children's home "especially liable to fire and a hazard to life and safety."

He ordered several changes and some construction work to be done at the home within 30 days.

Stewart said today that at a recent meeting Judge Cramer asked the commissioners to "work it out" so the Children's home might be used.

BOARD OBJECTS

The plan got another setback this week when Judge Cramer received a letter from the Richland county Child Welfare board advising against the proposal.

The letter said the board "wishes to go on record as not being in favor of such a proposal. We are aware of the definite need for detention home facilities in the community, but we felt that there are too many negative approaches to the children's home location."

The letter was signed by George W. Reece, executive secretary, and superintendent of the Children's home.

The fire marshal's report ordered the county to repair wiring in the home. Ceilings in the basement are to be constructed of fireproof material, and the floors and ceilings of stairway inclosures are to be fireproofed. The sound fire alarm was reported installed incorrectly and there are no exit lights in the home.

Other than the children's home proposal, Judge Cramer said the county might find a "specialized foster home with sufficient space and the right kind of foster parents."

He said the county could pay a monthly fee for the use of the home, plus fees for board and room. He added that such a plan was being used in other counties.

Stewart also suggested the foster home idea as "feasible."

Cupid Falls Down On Job, Records Show

June, traditional month of brides, proved to be a dismal 'flop' in Mansfield as records showed only 79 couples applying for licenses.

The 1949 figure was 23 below that for June, 1948, and far below expectations.

Various reasons have been advanced for the comparatively small number of applications, with the most support going to the idea that Dan Cupid hied himself off to a well-earned vacation.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Ruth McCammon's probate court office records bear mute evidence that something is wrong. Dan Cupid is falling down on the job.

Rail Strikers Gain Support

LONDON —(UP)—Thirty thousand London bus drivers voted today to support a threatened slowdown strike by British railway workers, and more longshoremen walked out in a spreading tieup of the London docks.

The British Labor government faced its most serious strike crisis since it came to power.

Anthony Eden, deputy leader of the Conservative party, asked in commons for a full accounting of the dock and railway strikes. The Conservatives gleefully made capital of the government's embarrassment.

Labor Minister George Issacs pleaded for a few hours grace.

Judith Coplon Protests

Claims Trial Was Unfair

WASHINGTON — (INS — Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves today sentenced ex-government girl Judith Coplon to 40 months to 10 years years in prison for being a Russian spy.

Sentence was imposed after Miss Coplon passionately declared herself to be innocent and told Reeves she had been denied "a fair trial."

Reeves imposed the maximum sentence of 40 months to 10 years on the first count of the indictment on which the girl was found guilty and one to three years on the second count. He declared they should run concurrently.

VIOLATED TRUST

In imposing sentence, the judge said Miss Coplon "violated a high trust" and "attempted to betray her country."

He said he could not imagine a more flagrant violation of the espionage laws than that committed by Miss Coplon, who was convicted of stealing vital U.S. secrets with the intention of sending them to Russia.

Reeves reviewed the evidence in the case and then said:

"I thoroughly approve the verdict of the jury. The jurors would have been derelict in their duty had they decided otherwise."

Turning to Prosecutors Raymond Whearty and John M. Kelley, who had just asked the court to order that she be held on $100,000 bail, Miss Coplon said.

"Whearty and Kelley may gloat in the glory of their hollow pyrrhic victory . . . They want to break me, but they'll never break me.

"The newspapers wanted to break me. I wasn't hysterical ever and I'm not hysterical now. I say I do not think I got a fair trial. I want to go to New York where I may get a fair trial out of the atmosphere of this loyalty-oath ridden town."

"This $100,000 is just the sort of tactics I would expect—it's the impassioned, filthy sort of way, the horrible way, they've been conducting this case."

The New York espionage trial of the convicted girl is to start July 11.

Labor Bill Now 'Dead'

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Administration leaders in Congress agreed today that President Truman's labor bill is dead, but they were divided on how to bury the remains.

One group was all for locking the bill up in the House Labor committee until Congress quits for the summer.

Another favored trying to "improve" the bill passed by the Senate late yesterday, and then sending it on to the White House for what they consider an almost certain veto.

The bill that started out in the Senate as a Taft-Hartley repealer was finally passed, 51-42, yesterday with virtually all the major Taft-Hartley provisions intact. The final product, largely the work of Sen. Robert A. Taft, R., O., would outlaw the closed shop, mass picketing, jurisdictional strikes and most secondary boycotts, and would regulate the union shop and union welfare funds.

Architect Raps Cost of Hospital

COLUMBUS — (UP) — The Cleveland architect who designed the Apple Creek state school hospital and later was fired today estimated the project will result in a $125,000 loss to Ohio taxpayers.

Joseph A. Gattozi, the architect, told the Ohio Senate Finance committee last night that not only will the taxpayers be out of pocket, but the building may be a fire hazard and have possible structural defects when it is completed in about two months.

Four Golf Tourneys Added to Links Roster

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

THE GOLF committee of the Mansfield Athletic commission met for the first time last night and proceeded to make its first boner. . . . Of course, members of the committee had quite an assist from representatives of most of the Mansfield links leagues. . . . The two best-ball tourneys and the women's city joust, which the two groups set up, fills a yawning gap in the Mansfield golf needs. . . . Forming of classes gives every local golfer a chance to win a prize and should stimulate the game. . . . But just where a city tournament fits into the picture is hard to visualize. . . . Already the Richland county tourney is well established and puts forth the best in prizes of any like event in the state. . . . The same fellows, barring a few from Shelby, will be competing in both the city and county jousts and each will take luster from the other. . . . If the majority of the city's golfers felt that the county meet should be set up in classes they should have petitioned the Richland county golf association to make the change. . . . Now two tournaments will be staged to decide the same thing—a silly situation at its best.

City Joust Set Up Late In Season

By CHARLEY STINE

Plans for two best-ball tournaments, a 36-hole medal tournament, and a women's city championship were laid by the golf committee of the Mansfield Athletic commission at a meeting in the Recreation department offices last night.

The three men's tournaments will be held in four separate classes, giving every golfer in the city a chance to compete with men of his own ability. Classes are: AA—Under 80; A—80-89; B—90-99; C—100 and up.

The committee met with representatives of all Mansfield golf leagues and set up the events according to what the league heads believed their members wanted. A separate tournament committee was appointed, composed of Pete Thoma, Bernie Mathias and Ned Simon.

An amateur-amateur best-ball of 18 holes will start off proceedings Sunday July 17. The tournaments will be held alternately at Possum Run and Coolridge but the site of the first tournament has not been set as yet. It will be announced by the tournament committee, within a few days.

CITY CHAMPIONSHIP

Another best-ball is to follow with a 36-hole medal tourney for the city championship to be played late in August or early in September. The tournament will be held in all four classes with 18-holes to be played at each club.

The city championship will be an open affair with professionels as well as amateurs allowed to compete. This will allow pros at all three clubs to compete if they wish as well as Joe Mayer. Mayer is ineligible for the Richland county tournament for two more years after his pro sojourn of last summer.

An entry fee of $1 per person will be set for each tournament with the money to be turned back as prize money for the top three places in each class.

Date for the women's tournament has not been set but it will be held sometime shortly after the men's city title. It will be the first women's city championship in the memory of Mansfield golf fans.

2 Pro Basketball Leagues Rumored Ready To Merge

CHICAGO (AP) — Officials of the National basketball league and the rival basketball association of America were slated to hold separate meetings here today amid rumors the two might merge.

Ike Duffey, NBL president, said in Indianapolis last night, the merger of the cage leagues was "within the realm of possibility."

In Washington last week it was reported after a meeting of BAA owners that they were ready to abandon the loop after next season if they continue to lose money. Later, however, some of the league owners said they had not heard of any plans for abandonment.

Two persons who attended last week's annual BAA owners and coaches meeting in New York told a reporter that most of the owners of the 12 member teams agreed the circuit "must show an overall profit this coming season (1940-50), or else." The meeting was a closed one.

Pitcher Wins, Jaw Is Busted

(By International News Service)

Columbus Red Bird pitcher Ray Yochim won his game with the Kansas city Blues last night, but wound up in the hospital today with his jaw fractured in two places.

Yochim, who gave up the foe's only tally, was clipped by one of Frank Hiller's fast balls and whipped away in an ambulance at the end of four innings.

Jack Crimian came to the mound in the fifth, to scatter five hits and make the Birds' 16-1 victory secure.

Altogether the Birds knocked out 20 hits, accepted 10 free passes and even had an error to help them whip the downtrodden, seventh - place Blues.

Speaker Shies From Guess On Indians' 1949 Finish

Speaking before some 300 Mansfield sport followers at the Presbyterian church last night, Tris Speaker shied away from answering the question, "How will the Indians finish this year?"

The old "Grey Eagle" did, however, pass along the opinions of the two big chiefs of the present Cleveland Indian regime. Speaker relates that Barnum Bill Veeck, prexy of the Tribe, keeps insisting that "Cleveland will win by not more than 10 games."

Boudreau's candid observation is that "you can tell the people we'll win the easy way by not losing the final game of the season if it means the pennant."

Although he wouldn't go out on a limb regarding the chances of the fourth-place Clevelanders, Speaker, one of baseball's all-time greats, did regale the fans at the Men's club party with numerous tales of the national pastime. He also talked at length about some of the current Tribesmen.

Tris did say that the Boston Red Sox is the team the Indians will eventually have to beat. He recalled the 1948 season when Boston was 12 games back at this stage of the race and still tied Cleveland for the flag.

About Cleveland, Tris says:

"I think it's a good ball club. It's the first time that I have seen an entire team go into a batting slump and stay in it. The pitching has been good considering the injuries to key men. In fact, the pitching has been good enough to win most of the games if we would have had a few hits in the right places."

IT'S NOT POSSIBLE

It doesn't seem possible for a team as good as last year's to fold up completely. I won't predict how they'll finish but I don't see how the team can stay in the slump."

A question and answer period followed Speaker's talk.

Here's the answer he gave to several of the queries:

"I believe Dale Mitchell will be baseball's next .400 hitter. He has fine coordination and led the Texas league, a pitcher's league, in 1946. Two other of our players, Al Rosen in 1947 and Ray Beene in 1948, led the Texas league. My observation is that it is as hard to compile a high average in the Texas league as it is in the majors."

"Bob Kennedy has only been pitching in batting practice. The Indian officials hope that he can become an outfielder who can hit."

"Ken Keltner has a bad charley horse and I cannot say how long he will be out of the lineup."

"Recuring injuries to Boudreau's ankles have forced him into slowing up. Being hit twice on the elbows in a week has hampered his batting swing."

"Boone is a good ball player. He will make errors because he goes after everything."

Speaker mentioned the league-leading Yankees only once. He referred to the Yanks' rookie center-fielder—I can't recall his name—who has hit four home runs in the last three games. Tris, of course, was talking about Joe DiMaggio, who he calls "a great player."

Tris says that DiMag has been hampered by lack of batting practice but is just reaching his prime. He said that it would be a blow to the game of baseball if Joe was forced out of the game by the ailing heel.

Showing of "World Series" movies and the Cleveland Browns promotional film concluded the father and son banquet at the Presbyterian church.

Gorman-Rupp Plays Host To Ashland Team

Gorman - Rupp's revitalized softball team is to face another old rival tonight when it is host to the Ashland, Indians in an 8:30 game on the home field.

The two teams have been battling back and forth for three years with Gorman-Rupp generallly favored but this time it is the Indians who have the better record. The Ashlanders have won 12 games and lost only two while Gorman-Rupp has an eight-wins-five-losses record.

Manager Nick Weber will send Bobby Regula to the hill for Gorman-Rupp tonight in quest of his second straight shutout, while Ashland is expected to counter with the Veteran Ollie Barker. Barker also had a shutout in his last start, beating Cowling Funeral home of Oberlin, 5-0, Wednesday night.

Gorman - Rupp has been in somewhat of a slump most of the season but did a reversal of form in beating Willard, 13-0, Wednesday. Another win like that one would put the Pumpers back in position to challenge the Ohio Major league teams. No more league games are set until July 12 at Cleveland.

2 Teams Can Tie For Lead

Hall's Shamrock Market and Buckeye Storage hope to take on the role of giant killers today as the City "B" golf league closes out its first half season.

Richland Printing and Norton's Shoes are tied for first place with 23 points but four points back are their opponents for tonight—Hall's and Buckeye. A clean sweep for both Hall's and Buckeye would make the race end in a four-way tie. Anything less will give the title to one of the two top teams.

Other matches tonight pair Doc Hamman and Bodley's Sohio. Sam Fox Jewelers and Pfeiffer's Beer, and Ohio Sport Center and Ross Rug.

Penn Auto-Sporting Goods is to meet its first Mansfield opponent of the season today when it is host to T. and E. Tavern at 5:30 p. m. at Blue Goose park.

Penn Auto is to play host to the Galion Merchants Sunday afternoon and then travel to New London at night. Monday, Tiffin will come here.

DiMag May Make 'Star' Squad On Pass; Joe Belts Fourth Homer In Three Days

By JACK HAND
(AP Sports Writer)

Better check those all-star votes. The name Joe DiMaggio seems to be missing.

If there is any legitimate 100 per cent all-star in the baseball business today, Joe is it. What matter that he missed the first 65 games? Off his showing in three ball games, he belongs on the team.

Ask the folks up around Fenway park, where he led the New York Yankees to three stunning victories over the Red Sox. He'd be elected by acclamation.

Lou Boudreau, as manager of the American league team in the July 12 all-star game at Brooklyn, has the privilege of naming the rest of his squad after the eight non-pitching starters have been selected by fan vote. He can use the Yankee clipper, if only as a pinch hitter.

When Lou Picks his squad, you'll probably find Jolting Joe right behind the first three outfielders picked by the fans—Ted Williams, Tommy Henrich and Brother Dominic DiMaggio.

Since DiMag moved into the majors from San Francisco in 1936, he has been named to ten all-star teams, missing only 1943-44-45 when he was in service. He didn't play in 1946 although he was on the squad and last year at St. Louis he was injured and appeared only as a pinch-hitter.

The DiMaggio story of 1949 is familiar to all by this time. How he sat out 65 games, played one exhibition and they catapulted into a starring role at Boston.

THREE-RUN HOMER

Jolting Joe did it again yesterday, crashing a three-run homer in the seventh inning to provide the winning 6-3 margin over the dazed Red Sox. He proved he is human by hitting into a double play, and popping out as well. Also he walked once and was hit by a pitched ball.

For three days, DiMaggio's performance chart - read like this:

At bat, 11 times with five runs and five hits for a .455 average. He has 13 put-outs.

His first hit was a single, but the last four have been homers to tie Johnny Mize of the New York Giants for the most homers by an active player. Each has hit 307.

The Sox was moving fast when the Yanks came to town. Now they're in fifth place, eight full games back. Regardless of the other contenders, it's Boston the Yanks are keeping their eyes on as they near the halfway mark in the race.

Vic Raschi, once a "cousin" for Boston, earned his second victory of the year over a team he never had beaten until this season. He gave up a dozen hits in a route-going job for his 12th victory.

Washington gave the Yanks a little more breathing room by knocking off Philadelphia, 8-6, in the only night game. The loss left the second place A's 5½ games behind New York.

A four-run rally in the eighth after two were out helped Dick Weik win his first major league game as a reliefer for Joe Haynes. Dick Fowler was the loser.

Detroit cut loose with a 17-hit attack on Early Wynn and three other Cleveland pitchers for a 12-6 triumph that moved them into third place ahead of the Tribe.

Brooklyn and St. Louis both lost in the National, leaving the Dodgers out front by a full game. The Phils' veteran lefty, Ken Heintzelman, tamed the Dodgers, 4-2, and the Chicago Cubs bombed the Cardinals, 12-5, with Hank Edwards hitting two homers, scoring five runs and driving in four.

Bill Voiselle and Glenn Elliott hurled the Boston Braves to a double victory over the Giants, 3-0 and 6-2. Elbie Fletcher's three-run homer off Hank Behrman did the trick for Voiselle who allowed four hits.

Pittsburgh bunched three of its four hits off Howie Fox in the sixth inning to shade Cincinnati, 2-1. Fox retired the first 13 Pirate batters until Wally Westlake tripled in the fifth.

Chicago and St. Louis were not scheduled in the American.

Non-Talking Burt Figures Dodgers To Win Pennant

By STAN OPOTOWSKY

NEW YORK—(UP)—It has been said that Burt Shotton is a man of few words, and that these few he got second hand from Branch Rickey.

But the Deacon, junior grade, opened up a mite today to discuss his Brooklyn Dodgers as they came winging back into town still in front of the National league race by a full game, and apparently without any notion of being dislodged.

Since Rickey usually does the talking, as well as most everything else, for the Dodgers, Shotton was not in very good practice and so the monosyllable interview went something like this:

Q. Do you think the Dodgers are in front to stay?

A. Certainly.

Q. Which team do you fear most in a stretch drive race?

A. All other seven.

Q. Are your returned Mexican leaguers going to help the Dodgers any?

A. Can't tell. Luis Olmo got in one game and sprained his ankle. Can't tell about Mickey Owen.

Q. Do you think the Mexican leaguers are helping the Cardinals?

A. Yep. Those players were good men when they left. They're still good. That's why they were in demand, in Mexico and here.

Q. Do you still need first base insurance?

A. We've got the best in the league (Gil Hodges). He could use some backstopping at first, I suppose. (Here the Rickey yes-no-maybe influence showed itself.)

Q. Do you plan on strengthening the club with any players brought up from the Dodger farms?

A. We might bring up somebody to help the pitching, if necessary.

Q. Anyone specific in mind?

A. Nope.

Q. Have you any other comment to add, Mr. Shotton?

A. Nope.

He could have said that the Pee Wee Reese-Jackie Robinson combination has given the Dodgers 75 double plays. He could have said the Dodgers lead the National league in fielding. He could have said the Dodgers are second in the league in batting, and lead the loop in runs batted in with 365. And home runs with 68.

But he didn't, this man of few words. He'll let the league standings tell his story.

Legion Outfit Touted To Win Game Easily

American Legion Post 16 looks to be in little danger of losing its undefeated record in the International softball league today. The league-leading Legionnaires are to meet last place Westinghouse Clerks, winless in four games at Liberty park.

American Veterans Committee, runne -up with four victories and one defeat, goes against the Westinghouse Engineers at Prospect while East Side Nite club takes on Tom's Restaurant at North Lake park. The Amvets hold a bye and will practice at Johns park.

Today's play officially ends the first round schedule but a large number of postponed games to be made up could yet shuffle the standings considerably.

Legion Junior 9's Scheduled Tonight

SHELBY — The second game of the county championship playoff between the Plymouth and Mansfield American Legion teams was rescheduled for 5 p. m. today after being rained out last night.

Mansfield won the first game of the double - elimination series, 2-1. Should the Mansfielders win again tonight, Plymouth would be eliminated. A Plymouth victory would necessitate a third game.

Games Called Off

All Church league games scheduled last night were rained out.

Detroit Tigers Put Blast on Indians, 12 to 6

Vic Wertz Big Guy With Four Safeties

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The Indians still seemed determined today to keep their most loyal rooter, Charley Lupica, up in the air.

Charley will be recalled as the gent who climbed up on a pole nearly four weeks ago with the intention of staying there until his Tribe got into first place.

He's still up there. So are the Yankees, in first place, 7½ games ahead of the fourth-place world champs.

Tonight, having split a four-game series with the Tigers, the Indians will try to improve their own—and Charley's position by opening a four-game stint with the St. Louis Browns.

Yesterday's final show with Detroit, which the Tigers won, 12-6, could have been entitled: how Outfielder Vic Wertz took the Indians.

Only 24 and a mediocre hitter until this year, he socked a home run, two doubles and a single in five trips to the plate. He drove in five runs and scored twice himself.

Wertz had a good time in Cleveland. He hit .500 during the series and pushed his batting average from .317 to .328.

He was not the only Tiger who found Indian pitching yesterday a fairly simple problem. Early Wynn (the loser), Mike Garcia, Frank Papish and Sam Zoldak—they all looked alike to Detroit and were tagged for 17 hits.

That was the largest hit total off Cleveland pitchers this year. It was Wynn's first loss.

HITTING BETTER

Oddly, the Indians' hitting was better than it has been since June 15. They hit 13 times against young Art Houtteman, but failed to bunch them in larger clusters than two in any one inning.

Jim Hegan slapped his third homer of the season for two runs, and Lou Boudreau, Larry Doby and Dale Mitchell had two hits apiece.

The Tigers scored twice in the first inning and the Indians came back in their half with two. Wynn went out when Detroit got two more runs in the next inning. Then the Tigers scored four unearned markers in the fourth.

The splurge in that frame could largely be blamed on Boudreau. He left the door open by muffing Johnny Lipon's grounder. However, Boudreau looked better at the plate than he has in three weeks.

He collected a double and single in five times at bat, the first time he has hit safely more than once in a game since June 6.

Tonight Al Benton will oppose left hander Joe Ostrowski. Tomorrow afternoon there will be another single game, and on Sunday a doubleheader.

Kenny Keltner won't be out there tonight and there's a good chance he'll miss the seven-game western road trip. The charley horse he pulled in his leg during Wednesday night's game may take as long as two weeks to mend, the club says.

JOE HITS HOMER—A grin on his face and hands outstretched for a double handshake Joe DiMaggio crosses plate in seventh inning for his fourth homer of the three-game series with Red Sox at Boston. Joe scored Tom Henrich (No. 15) and Snuffy Stirnweiss (1) ahead of him for a total of nine runs on his four homers. Yanks won 6-3 yesterday and swept series largely due to Joe's hitting on his return to lineup. (AP Wirephoto).

Men's Singles Finals Today At Wimbledon

BULLETIN

LONDON—(AP)— Ted Schroeder, top-seeded favorite from La Crescenta, Calif., won the Wimbledon tennis championship today, defeating Jaroslav Drobny of Czechoslovakia in the men's singles finals, 3-6, 6-0, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4.

★

WIMBLEDON, ENG. —(INS) —Ted Schroeder, of La Crescenta, Cal., will face Czechoslovakia's Jaroslav Drobny on Wimbledon's famed center court today in the final of the men's singles in the all-England tennis championships.

Ted will be attempting to put over the first half of a double, because he and Gardnar Mulloy, of Miami, Fla., gained the men's doubles finals yesterday by defeating Australia's Geoff Brown and Billy Sidwell, 6-4, 3-6, 6-8, 6-3, 9-7, in a gruelling match.

The other finalists in the men's doubles will be the winners of today's match between Budge Patty, of San Francisco, and Eric Sturgess, of South Africa, and the Los Angles team of Frankie Parker and Pancho Gonzales.

Three of the four tandems in the semi-finals of the women's doubles play today are American combination. The favored pair of Louise Brough and Mrs. Margaret duPont will meet the English team of Joy Gannon and Betty Hilton in one match. In the other, an all American affair, Gussie Moran and Mrs. Patricia Canning Todd will take on Mrs. Helen Rihbany of Boston and Shirley Fry of Akron, O.

Mrs. Rihbany and Miss Fry found the going rough yesterday in eliminating the British tandem of Mrs. N. W. Blair and Miss Jean Quertier, 6-3, 5-7, 11-9.

Ancient 'Return' Mat Match Won By Jack Ganson

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Cleveland wrestling promoter Jack Ganson pinned his mat opponent Herman Pirchner last night in their 21-year-old "return" match.

Ganson, slower and heavier than Pirchner, managed to pin him with a body press. The two wrestlers first faced each other in 1928 when Ganson also won at Columbus.

Oryille Brown retained his national wrestling association crown by defeating Sandor Kovacs of Chicago in two straight falls.

Lilian Elllison and Cecelia Blevins won the last two falls to beat Juanitta Coffman and Mae Weston in the women's tag team affair.

Fred Bozik got out of hand in his match with Don Eagle and had to be disqualified. Frank Talaber and Ivan Rasputin grappled to a 20-minute draw in the opener.

Adams Fires 82 In Golf Tourney

Arnie Admas, the Mansfield golfer who was only two strokes off the pace in the first round of last week's Plain Dealer tournament, dropped to an 82 in the 18 holes played yesterday at Chagrin Valley.

Arnie is now tied for 24th place among the 209 entries in the 72-hole event. The tourney will close with 36 holes at Canterbury next Thursday. Dale Rose and Dick Kooser also had 82's yesterday while the fourth Mansfield entrant, Dick Hosler, had an 89.

Operation Slated Today For Removal of Bullet

CHICAGO—(AP)—Eddie Waitkus, Philadelphia Phillies first baseman, was to undergo an operation today for removal of a bullet lodged near his spine.

The 29-year-old baseball star was to be taken from the Illinois Masonic hospital to Billings Memorial hospital for the operation. A hospital spokesman said the removal of the .22 caliber rifle bullet is not a serious operation. He said Waitkus' condition is "fine," but he will be confined to the hospital for about 10 days. It was not known whether Waitkus will be able to play with the Phillies later this season

Waitkus has been in the hospital since June 15 after he was shot and wounded by Miss Ruth Ann Steinhagen, 19-year-old typist who had a secret crush on him for two years. He was shot after he had gone to her hotel room in response to her pleas she had something "important" to tell him.

Miss Steinhagen, in fast-moving legal proceedings yesterday, was committed to the Kankakee State hospital for treatment. She was adjudged insane by a jury after a grand jury indicted her on a charge of assault with intent to murder. After she was found insane the indictment against her was stricken with leave to reinstate it.

Miss Steinhagen earlier had appeared in felony court where Waitkus, sitting in a wheel chair, related events leading up to the shooting. She displayed no emotion and did not speak to Waitkus.

Dr. William H. Haines, head of the criminal court behavior clinic, testified the tall, dark-haired girl is a victim of schizophrenia (split personality). He told the jury he had examined her daily since she was arrested after the shooting "and I have found her insane."

The girl's father, Walter, and her attorneys requested she be sent to an institution "without delay."

Coaltown Tops Field Gunning For '49 Title

NEW YORK—(AP)—With half of the year gone, Coaltown looms as the "Horse of the Year", but it might be well to postpone handing out the posies until the Pimlico special is run late in October.

Horses winning that one usually wind up at the top of the list when the votes are all counted.

Coaltown, the No. 2 Calumet colt back of Citation in 1948, came into his own this season and captured eight straight races until he was upset last Saturday by Star Reward in the Equipoise mile at Chicago's Arlington park.

The speedy son of Bull Lea-Easy Lass has defeated many of the handicap stars in his 1949 campaign.

But he might not be able to clinch his claim for highest honors on the turf until the Pimlico special in Baltimore during the fall meeting of Old Hilltop. There are a lot of others he still hasn't met.

The Pimlico special, inaugurated in 1937, is designed to be a horse "world series." Eligible entrants are the winners of 35 premier American races. The special has been run 12 times, and on eight occasions the winner became horse of the year.

Thoma Leads Herman Loop

Pete Thoma started off the second half of the Sons of Herman league schedule in good fashion last night as he fired a two-under-par 32 over the Coolridge links. Steve Stirtzinger had a 36.

Membership won the first half title with 53½ points.

Even Umps Make With Theatrics

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK — (UP) — It might come as a surprise to the meat packing industry but ham is an integral part of a camera.

Due to this ham factor in the equipment, television currently is creating a new trend in sports which substitutes beauty for base hits and sacrifices grit for glamor.

Slenderized by an alphabetical short cut, television is known as TV. From the manner in which our athletes are acting, the "TV" must stand for "tendon virtuosos."

This complaint was registered first by several baseball managers who groused that even the umpires were muscling into the melodrama. After two games on the same field, the umps insisted on a 10-minute discussion of the ground rules before a third game—complete with dramatic Katharine corn-ellian gestures.

The late and very lamented heavyweight "title" fight between Jersey Joe Walcott and Ezzard Charles was another example of how the muse is tampering with our muscles.

Walcott played a terpsichorean Uncle Tom, shaking the cabin with a benign buck and wing and a back shuffle in the general direction of Buffalo. Charles gave a fetching interpretation of a startled Eliza sambaing across the ice with orders never to darken Walcott's door—or eye—again.

Both acted as if their options would be dropped should their makeup be disturbed.

It set a polka precedent for the prize ring. Henceforth, your main eventers feel duty bound to do most of their roadwork at Arthur Murray's. That gentleman's slogans can read: "Charleston your way to the championship," or "waltz to be a winner."

The first thing you know our camera conscious athletes all will be enrolled in charm schools, learning poise, posture, how to give with the gesture and what to do about the bulging belt line. There even are mail order courses of this type for the itinerant muscle men.

Not even your rookies, up for a cup of coffee, need to feel slighted. There's a 10-day "wonder course" available which is complete to makeup foundation.

Among the devotees of the sport of kings, Mrs. Elizabeth Arden Graham, owner of Maine Chance farm, figures to collar most of the racing trade, such as jockeys and trainers. You might say that Mrs. Graham, who parlays mud packs and mudders, has the inside track.

Television also opens a whole new field in the matter of picking up a fast buck. There was a time when your athlete endorsed such mundane materials as chawin' terbaccy, smokes and breakfast foods.

Now they can shill for the luxury trade. For instance:

"You can be lovely, too," says Yogi Berra.

"Be svelte and streamlined," says Hugh Casey.

But what I'm waiting for is color television. Then the makeup man will be as necessary as the club trainer. Ball players will wear satin and only the second division clubs will be relegated to flannels.

And imagine guys like Johnny Mize and Leo Durocher arguing over the best shade of lipstick and eye shadow. Oh brother!

Three Indians Win Local 'Star' Rating

Mansfield area baseball fans picked three members of the world championship Cleveland Indian aggregation on their version of the American league all-star team.

While Mansfielders and Ohioans generally cast many thousands of votes for their favorites, voters in other parts of the country were lukewarm towards the fourth-place Tribe. None of the Indians are accorded much chance of landing on the all-star first team.

Final tabulations of ballots will not be completed by the Chicago Tribune until Saturday and results will be announced after all the votes are in. The National and American league teams will meet in the annual all-star fracas July 12 in Brooklyn.

The local vote casters put Catcher Jim Hegan, Second-sacker Joe Gordon and Outfielder Dale Mitchell on their squad. Besides Ken Keltner ran second in the third-base poll and Mickey Vernon was runner-up among the first sackers.

Mansfield's version of the club had Eddie Joost, Philadelphia, at short; Eddie Robinson, Washington, at first and Ted Williams, Boston and Tommy Henrich, New York, as the other regulars. Mitchell barely edged Dom DiMaggio, Boston, for the third outfield post. Larry Doby, Cleveland, ran fifth among the outfielders while Lou Boudreau was third in the shortstop voting.

ON SECOND NINE

The American league second team included: Vernon, Keltner, DiMaggio, Doby, Cass Michaels, Chicago, second; Vern Stephens, Boston, short; Birdie Tebbetts, Boston, catcher and Bob Kennedy, Cleveland, outfield.

Williams and Henrich were the most popular American leaguers.

However, the area fans were more decisive in their National league selections. Stan Musial, St. Louis, pulled down the most votes while Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn, and Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh, were tied for second.

Rounding out the National league team (Mansfield style) were: Johnny Mize, New York, first; Eddie Kasak, St. Louis, third; PeWee Reese, Brooklyn, short; Andy Seminick, Philadelphia, catcher and Willard Marshall, New York, outfield.

Walker Cooper, was the only Cincinnati Red getting a one-two spot. He shaded Ray Campanella, Brooklyn, for the No. 2 catching spot. Eddie Waitkus, the wounded Philadelphia star, ran second to Mize at first.

Pitchers for the game will be selected by Billy Southworth, who will manage the National team, and Boudreau of the Americans.

Rookie Mike Garcia May Spark Tribe

By JIM BECKER

NEW YORK —(AP)— The Cleveland Indians had counted on their veterans to gain them their second straight flag but it may remain for a strong, young rookie to lead them back to the top.

Husky Mike Garcia, 25-year-old California-born hurler, may haul the Indians up with his strong right arm. Garcia has blinding speed, good control, and he has just learned to throw a curve.

The rookie began the season in relief, where he compiled a sensational game-saving record when the Indians needed it most. He is performing equally well in a starting role, leaving Manager, Lou Boudreau the problem of where to use Garcia in the future. Chances are he will employ Mike's talents both in relief and as a starter. Garcia likes plenty of work.

"Mike can win as a starter," says Boudreau. "But he's such a terrific relief pitcher I hate to take him out of the bullpen. Mike has that real good fast ball he can throw by the hitters when there are runners on the bases. That's especially valuable to a relief pitcher."

The game that really got Garcia going, and juiced up the Indian pennant hopes, was a neat three-hitter he threw at the Yankees to beat them 3-1 and complete a sweep of a double-header.

Early Wynn was slated to pitch that game but a case of hives sent him to the hospital. Second choice Steve Gromek was hit by a line drive during batting practice. Garcia got the starting nod, and after the game the Indians got flag fever.

Garcia, a personable young man, lives with his family on their own walnut grove in Visalia, Calif. He entered pro ball in 1942 with Appleton of the Wisconsin State League and after a service stretch went to Bakersfield, Calif., in 1946 where he won 22 games. In 1947 he was a 17-game winner for Wilkes-Barre and had a great season with Oklahoma City in 1948, winning 19 times.

BIGGEST THRILL

The Indians brought him up late last year and he got his biggest major league thrill pitching the final game.

"I worked two innings before a packed house at Cleveland in the final game of the season," he remembers. "We lost to Detroit and were forced into the playoff. They didn't get any runs off me, but I sure was scared when I walked into that game."

This spring Mike gained a curve with the help of Mel Harder, Cleveland pitching coach

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Ohio Starts Next 6 Months 'Broke' as Senate Squabbles

2 Measures Pending In Legislature

Old Age Checks To Be Delayed

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Technically, the state of Ohio is broke. It's a "water, water everywhere, but not a drop to drink" sort of financial embarrassment, however. There are more than a hundred million dollars in the treasury — but not a cent of it may be spent.

The partial appropriations bill, which provided money for the first six months of the year, expired last midnight. And, until some sort of a new money measure is passed, the state is without funds.

Two money measures are in the hands of the Senate Finance committee. One, the 646 million dollar appropriations bill to provide the money needed for the two-year fiscal period beginning today, passed the House June 14.

The other, a stop-gap temporary measure introduced only Wednesday, would be in the nature of a substitute until the more complicated general bill could be passed.

Paychecks of state workers — 26,000 of them — do not come due until July 15. However, the checks of some of the state's 125,000 old age pensioners are bound to be late, since the checks normally start to go in the mails at the rate of some 4,000 a day on the fourth of the month.

The lawmakers now are in adjournment until Tuesday afternoon because of the Fourth of July holiday.

Adjournment of the House came, however, only over the violent protests of the screaming Republican minority in the most disorderly session in several years.

It required a rare vote by Speaker John F. Cantwell on a three-times-continued roll-call to carry the motion to adjourn.

Science Outruns Efforts To Limit Farm Production

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Threats of new farm surpluses, with prospects of a return to government production controls, raise this question:

Can government planning of farm output keep pace with science?

With foreign markets for many agricultural products falling off and with imports of some competitive products increasing, the Agriculture department faces the problem of cutting domestic production of a number of commodities.

Yet day by day science is showing the farmer how to produce more and more on less and less land and with fewer hours of labor.

This tug-o'-war is leading many farm leaders to debate the effectiveness of one of the major measures now authorized by law for holding down farm output. That measure is the acreage allotment.

When the government decides there is need to reduce production of a crop, it sets up a system of acreage allotments. Under it, the Agriculture department sets a production goal for the particular crop. Then it says that on the basis of past average yields per acre, it would take so many acres of land to produce the goal.

For example, let us suppose that the government sets a production goal of 1,000,000,000 bushels of wheat in a move to get away from the 1,250,000,000-bushel and larger crops of recent years. It assumes that the yield per acre will be a past average—that is about 15 bushels.

It would take 66,666,666 acres to produce the 1,000,000,000 bushel goal at the rate of 15 bushels an acre.

This 66,666,000-acre national planting allotment is divided among individual growers The latter must plant no more than their allotment if they want to be eligible for government price support aid.

But the government has no assurance that the crop will be kept within the goal, even if every farmer stays within his allotment. It is possible for farmers to boost the yield above the past average by using more fertilizers, new and higher-yielding varieties of seed, and improved harvesting machinery.

Fighting Ability of China Forces On Formosa Seen Key

By TOM LAMBERT

TAIPEH, FORMOSA — (AP) — Formosa's steep cliffs and shallow beaches restrict landing sites for any possible Red invasion of this nationalist "holdout" island.

But the big question, of course, is whether the nationalist forces — land, sea and air — would vigorously defend them from any attack, communist or otherwise. The "will to fight" is an imponderable factor where nationalist combat forces are concerned.

Nationalist military leaders are trying to decide now how to combat any Red attack on this big, rugged island, 100 miles off the China coast. Communications are poor and much of the terrain is hilly. Fast movement of troops is a critical problem.

These conferences may decide the tactical and strategic issues But it is doubtful if they will settle something vastly more important — whether nationalist forces will fight if they have to do so. The men in the line waver from hour to hour.

There is little doubt that nationalist China — Chiang Kai-Shek at any rate — wants to keep and defend Formosa. It is here that his gold, or nationalists China's gold to be more specific, is guarded.

The stakes are very high.

Formosa, come what may, will be the last holdout against Red China. The mainland, likely, will fall eventually to the communists.

As one cynical American put it: "Formosa is a haven for has beens"

These include nationalist generals and government officials who fled here from the mainland ahead of the onrushing communists.

Competent observers here say there are more than enough troops on Formosa to defend the island against assault by arms — if they will fight.

These sources, and they are competent, estimated there are up to 300,000 uniformed men on the island. Almost half that number are naval and air force men. The others are ground forces. It should be emphasized that this is a guess as to numbers. It is doubtful that any Chinese, including Chiang, knows actually just how many men are available here.

THE WINNER — China doll Jean Lui, twenty-one months old, out-wails all contestants to take the title of the "cry-ingest" baby in New York's Chinatown during the field day of the Chinese Community club The festival was held on famous Mulberry street.

Pay $200 For Weekly Paper

BOWLING GREEN — (INS) — Two jobless journalism graduates from Bowling Green university cured their unemployment ills with the purchase of a newspaper for $200.

John James, Spencerville, and Dean McMurray, Celina, became publishers, reporters and editors of the community weekly at Bettsville.

The co-publishers took over the paper which was started less than a year ago by Bettsville civic groups. With seven correspondents and 350 subscribers, the paper serves seven Seneca county communities from an office rented at $2 per week.

Fly Confession To Hearts Trial

NEW YORK — (INS) — The original signed confession in which Raymond Martinez Fernandez, 34, male half of the accused "lonely hearts" murderers reportedly admitted to Michigan authorities his part in a brutal double murder, was being flown to the trial today.

Martinez and his sweetheart, Mrs Martha Jule Beck, 29, on trial in Bronx Supreme Court for a different brutal slaying, made statements in Kent County, Mich., after the murder of a 24-year-old mother, Mrs. Delphine Downing, and her 20-month old daughter, Rainelle.

Holiday Death Toll Expected to Reach 600

Issue Plea For Caution On Highways

Record Traffic Jam Predicted

Mansfield post state highway patrolmen — who'll have no holiday on the Fourth—today urged extreme and constant caution on the part of every motorist who drives during the holiday week end.

The same warning came from the patrol's chief, Col. George Mingle:

"The individual driver holds the key to the number of accidents, fatal and otherwise," Mingle stated, "which will be reported at the end of the holiday period. "Cooperation on the part of the individual driver in obeying traffic regulations, driving carefully and observing courtesy of the road will keep to a minimum the number of accidents and perhaps save a life."

At the same time the National Safety Council estimated that careless driving and swimming, illegal use of fireworks and other holiday activities probably will kill 600 or more persons during the Fourth.

The toll will boost sharply the nation's accident deaths which in traffic alone totaled 11,400 for the first five months of the year.

Col. Mingle said the entire force of uniformed patrolmen would be on duty over the holiday to direct traffic and to assist motorists. The highway patrol superintendent also urged motorists to have their vehicles checked for mechanical defects.

And Ned H. Dearborn, president of the Safety Council, said the council's prediction of traffic deaths was not one "of inescapable tragedy over the holiday."

SEES RAY OF HOPE

"In fact, it is our firm belief that the nation can cut holiday traffic toll to half the estimate, or less, if it takes seriously this warning of what will happen if the traffic accident pattern, established on preceding holidays, prevails over the Fourth."

Here are the tips on safe driving Dearborn suggests:

Start your trip early and take your time.

Hold down your speed to a safe level.

Don't argue with the other fellow about the right-of-way. Let him have it.

Be polite and thoughtful on the road.

The experts said some 33,000,000 vehicles will hit the highways in one of the biggest traffic jams in history. The total depends upon the weather.

The vehicles burn 340,000,000 gallons of gasoline and travel 4,500,000,000 miles.

At least 290 persons in these vehicles will be killed.

Another 10,000 will be injured and some of these will die of their inuries later.

Probably five to 10 persons will die from accidents with fireworks.

BOMBED CAR—Demolished by a high explosive blast that also shattered 25 windows in a Cleveland hotel, wreckage of a 1948 club coupe lays where is landed. Police blame the bombing on a war between rival linen and laundry supply firms. The car WAS the property of Herbert Tainow, 23, resident of the hotel and representative of National Industrial Laundries company of Newark, N. J. He was asleep in the hotel at the time of the explosion.

Stiffens Dining Spot Requirements

Ashland Regulates Food Handlers

ASHLAND — All Ashland eating and drinking establishments, dairies and milk production centers today began operating under the new city health code. The code is patterned after U. S. public health service standards.

The program, resulting from many years of effort by Dr. C. B. Meuser, city - county health commissioner, requires permits from the health department for all eating establishments, physical certificates for all food handlers, and fulfillment of sanitary requirements by all establishments.

During the past year, all establishments coming under the code have been working toward the goal of meeting the requirements effective today. Some modernization and altering of physical plants has been done.

Mrs. Elizabeth Young is in charge of restaurant inspections under the code, with Donald Schact, city sanitarian, in charge of dairy inspection. Required laboratory tests in inspections will be performed by Miss Mary Thornburg, laboratory technician for the health department.

Eating and drinking places are being issued permits to operate by the health department. Later the places will be graded in Classes A, B, and C, according to their physical qualities. The grades do not indicate quality of food.

The health department has been working with the establishments during the past year, demonstrating methods of improving sanitary conditions and use of sanitary equipment.

A school for food handlers is to be set up under the cooperation of the state department of health.

Library Closed All Day Friday

Miss MacKellar said the building, was closed so that equipment can be moved in preparation for the beginning of work on the remodeling project early next week.

The library will be open its usual hours Saturday.

'Iced Watermelon' Proves Surprise For Heavy Girl

CLEVELAND — (UP) — Mrs. Kathryn Leutner, 32, today consigned her weight reducing potions and bend -from -the -waist exercises to the ashcan.

For weeks she had been worried about her figure and especially the avoirdupois around her waist.

So she consulted her physician, took his advice on diet and medicines and took her own bend-from-the-waist exercises.

Wednesday she gave birth to a six pound, four ounce "surprise" baby son.

"I had no idea," she exclaimed, smiling at her new son. "When I first had pains yesterday I thought it was just the result of the iced watermelon I had eaten."

The unscheduled arrival caused a commotion in the Leutners' suburban Garfield Heights neighborhood as the neighbors pitched in to throw together an emergency layette.

Mrs. Leutner said that all she knew was that she was taking on weight, that she had been taking weight - reducing treatments from her doctor and had been doing her "bend from the waist" exercises daily.

She worked Tuesday as usual. That evening she ate iced watermelon and at 4 a. m. she was awakened with "indigestion" which became so acute she called her doctor.

Even then, she said, it took an hour for him to decide what was wrong. But it wasn't the iced watermelon. And it wasn't even the watermelon seeds. Baby boy Leutner was born at 7:25 a. m.

That made Mrs. Leutner the second greater Cleveland mother to have a "surprise" baby in the past two months. On May 24, Mrs. Frances Weber, 23, squealed her surprise and gave birth to a completely unexpected 6½ pound girl.

Strikes Result In Heavy Losses

AS THERE is further progress in human relations—particularly in employe-employer relations—some way will undoubtedly be found to avoid the strikes which some leaders of labor organizations now regard as a powerful weapon in enforcing demands.

The great harm wrought by shut-down of either large or small industries for the duration of a strike must be realized by workers as well as by outside observers, and some better method of reaching agreements on controversial points can surely be devised.

Ending of the long-drawn-out strike by 1,800 employes of the Warner & Swasey Co., in Cleveland, provides an example of the fallacy of such procedure, as the matters in dispute are now to be settled at the conference table—just as could have been done without the 182-day shutdown which imposed heavy penalties on idle employes through loss of wages, as well as disrupting the business of the company and reducing the supply of needed commodities.

There is also the incident of the Bendix plant in South Bend, Ind., which is being re-opened by agreement after having been strike-bound for ten weeks, much to the inconvenience of other industries which had used its products but which were compelled to arrange for other sources of supply.

Instead of objecting so strenuously to relatively mild governmental restraints against strikes detrimental to public health and safety, those who hold positions of authority in labor organizations would be well advised to seek ways to avoid strikes—and members of those organizations accustomed to quickly obeying a strike order might also be benefited by devoting thought to consequences rather than to act hastily and without regard to losses in wages and other detrimental effects of the shutdown of an industry upon which they are dependent for their livelihood.

Chapter Ends In Coplon Story

AND SO it comes about that Judith Coplon has been found guilty of charges that, as a government employe, she stole vital U. S. secrets from the department in which she worked, for the purpose of aiding a foreign power—in other words that she acted as a spy for Russia.

A jury of eight men and four women returned the verdict of "guilty" yesterday afternoon after deliberating more than thirteen hours, following a trial that lasted almost ten weeks.

The trial, and incidents leading up to it, possessed all the elements of fascinating fiction—a more or less beautiful girl, secret papers, love interest, mysterious characters flitting hither and thither, violent outbreaks by the defendant who claimed she was being "framed," and so, on and on.

The verdict of "guilty" by no means indicates an abrupt ending of the story, as Miss Coplon faces a second trial in New York on espionage conspiracy charges. There was also immediate announcement by her attorney of intention to appeal, "and carry the case to the Supreme Court, if necessary."

So now to the next chapter, although the story seems to have already passed the "red herring" stage.

Argentina To Control Education

ARGENTINA has accomplished by decree what many nations dream of doing. All tuition and related fees have been abolished in the six major universities of Argentina. There are certain flaws in the Argentine accomplishment, chief of which is that the national government has taken control of all the universities. But at least money or the lack of it will no longer be a critical element in deciding whether or not an aspiring youngster can attend a university.

On what basis will students be chosen? President Juan Peron said higher education should be available to all Argentine youths who "wish to educate themselves for the good of the country." This suggests that political considerations will enter into the decision as to which young people will get the advantage of the available facilities.

In the United States there is a universal desire to make college education available to a greater number of people, by reducing financial limitations to the minimum. It was clearly shown by the experience with government-financed education of World War II veterans that any step which greatly modifies the system of financial selection will strain present college facilities to the bursting point.

Some system of selection other than the financial one certainly is desirable, but what should it be? Certainly it should not be political. Probably it should be based on the ability to learn and to apply knowledge, but better tests of that ability are needed.

Children Given Responsibility

WINDOW BREAKAGE is a problem for many schools and other public and private buildings located where children habitually play in large groups. Chicago offers no exception, there broken windows in the public school buildings have been counted in the thousands each month.

After years of talk on this subject, school administrators finally interested pupils in taking over the job of observation. They devised their own protective organization and methods. They eliminated ball-playing within range of unprotected windows and cleared school grounds of loose stones which might prove tempting.

Over a five-month period taken for comparison breakage was reduced by twenty per cent, with further improvement anticipated.

Civilization is an everlasting process of moving ahead. There are ups and downs and backsets, but the general movement is slowly forward.

What Some Other People Are Saying

EX-PRESIDENT HERBERT HOOVER: "The concept (of a single chief of staff over all the armed services) places too much power in any military officer and thus checks the vital civilian control of the armed services."

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Revelations Have Justified Procedure

A GOOD DEAL of serious discussion is going on in the editorial offices of magazines and newspapers about what some people call a "red scare" and what others, more sympathetically, call a national awakening to the danger of traitors in our midst.

Editors generally are moved by two -- often conflicting -- compulsions. One is to provide news and comment that will interest readers. The other is to be sure that the news and comment they publish are sound and good for the country and the community.

There are some who now feel that too much prominence has been given to the various manifestations of communism and communist sympathy and that it is time to pipe down.

Others are convinced that more and more publicity is needed because people generally are not sufficiently aroused to the danger in our midst. There are others who feel that the public still avidly consumes news of trials, investigations and probes and that in a competitive field they must continue to play it up.

There is no apparatus to determine a final answer to these questions. No one knows whether the public is more or less interested in communism than it was a year ago. The presentation of printed copy to the public is still a matter of trial and error. A good sense of proportion is about all that can determine what to print.

Outside the publishing business, there is criticism, notably among professors and welfare workers, that the press has overplayed domestic news of communism. This criticism has been rising rapidly since legislative committees in various states have been looking into subversive influences in schools.

Sharp disagreement has been noted concerning efforts to impose loyalty oaths upon faculty people. Some of this protest seems to be highly theoretical, but it is more or less sincere.

• • •

Danger In Indifference.

AS TALK of war and of the danger of war subsides, these protests will be more freely made and they will elicit more and more sympathy. Recent developments in Europe have generally been favorable to peace. All this will have an effect upon our fear of subversive influences at home.

There is a danger, however, and a very real one, that after current trials and investigations are ended, a serious reaction may come. People will feel, since they have survived these real and unreal threats, that they may again become completely indifferent to the issues that have been raised.

Public officials may again assume the carelessness that permitted so much disloyalty to invade public service. For the truth is that the infection of communism has invaded our government and our schools. Regardless of the outcome of present trials and investigations, enough has been revealed to keep us forever on the alert.

Freedom of teaching does not mean the right of publicly supported teachers to engage in propagating subversive doctrines. And in critical spots in our government there should be no half loyalties.

Excessive attention to communism and subversive activities over the past two years has done us no real harm, unless, as is noted above, it results in a reaction of excessive indifference. What we have witnessed has certainly been no mere "red scare."

Looking Back

Twenty Years Ago Today

Monday, July 1, 1929.

William T. Houston, assistant postmaster, completed 30 years of service as employe of Mansfield postoffice, without ever having missed a day because of illness.

Beacon light was placed in operation on Farmers Bank building to guide aviators to airport.

Home grown vegetables were scarce due to excessive rains in May.

Classes in life saving were being conducted at Casino park pool.

Joseph M. Conard, founder of the Conard Extract company, died at his home, 221 West Fourth street.

Rupert A. Green, 56, died at his home, Hilltop Inn, Park avenue west road.

Jacob Wagenhals, student at University of Cincinnati, returned to spend summer vacation here.

Robert Schmidt, Bowman street was injured by explosion of firecracker.

TODAY IN HISTORY

"God Save the King" was first sung by the choir of royal chapel on July 1, 1607. This fact is much disputed, since Henry Carey (1740) and James Oswald (1742), also claim to be its author.

The Nation Today

Don't Bet On Labor Law

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—Don't bet on what's going to happen to the Taft-Hartley labor act in Congress.

That's because things are scrambled there, where the Democrats are supposed to be in control because they have a majority.

It's a rickety kind of control, as this will show. For a minute, just review a little history so that what's happening will be clear.

In 1935, when the Democrats had a majority in Congress and were really able to run the show, they passed the Wagner Labor Act.

(The father of it was Robert F. Wagner, New York Democrat who has just resigned from the Senate after 22½ years there.)

The Wagner Act compelled a boss to bargain with a union representing his employes. It put no restrictions on a union. Employers, who looked on as a one-sided law, never got used to it. But it stayed on the books until 1947.

In that year the Republicans got control of Congress with a majority and promptly tackled the Wagner Act.

They replaced it with the Taft-Hartley Act. Now it was the turn of the unions to scream because:

While T-H put a few more restrictions on employers it put more restrictions on unions than they ever had before in their long history.

That was one of the big talking points for President Truman and his Democrats in last fall's elections.

They promised, backed by labor, that if they won control of Congress they'd wipe out T-H and restore the old Wagner Act. They won.

So they started this 81st Congress in January with a majority and more promises of knocking T-H into the bleachers.

• • •

Too Hot To Handle.

HEARINGS on a new labor bill went on for months. Finally the House, where the Democrats have a majority, called it up for action.

But the Democrats--particularly the southern Democrats--were not all willing to tag along with Mr. Truman's campaign promises.

This was duck soup for the Republicans who wanted to keep T-H, or as much of it as they could.

So the Truman Democrats weren't able to ram through the old Wagner Act in place of T-H. Finally. . .

The bill was sent back to the House labor committee for further study. This prevented a final vote on the floor.

And most times when a bill is called up on the floor, as this was, and then goes back to committee, that just about kills it for the rest of the year.

At last, a couple of weeks ago, the Senate, where the Democrats also have a majority, called up the labor bill for action.

The Truman Democrats haven't been doing so well there, either. For they always lack control when the southern Democrats shift over to join hands with the Republicans.

They've done that in the pinches, so the southern Democrats and Republicans gradually are shaping the kind of labor bill they want, not the kind the Trumanites promised. But--

Maybe the Senate won't pass this bill in the end. Maybe, it, too will send the whole business back to committee. If so, that will kill any chance of a new labor law this session.

Why should that happen? For one thing, the Republicans might vote for doing that, since they want T-H to stand on the books anyway. And it will stand, if no new law is passed to change it.

And the Trumanites might be willing to do that, also, since a new law anything like T-H would be a defeat for them.

If they could put the whole business in mothballs now, they might be able to try again to get what they want next year. If they failed in that, they could make it a campaign issue in the 1950 elections.

Even if the Senate passes a bill, it can't become law unless the House also approves and the President signs it.

There's no assurance the House will resurrect the bill which it already has buried in its own committee. But--

If both Houses should agree on a bill, and if looks anything like T-H, President Truman almost certainly will veto it. That would kill it unless both Houses could re-pass it by a whopping two-thirds vote.

Views Vary On Federal Aid To Schools

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — One congressman who has vigorously defended North Carolina's Graham Barden from the charge of "bigot" hurled at him by Cardinal Spellman is Rep. Andrew Jacobs of Indianapolis, himself a devout Catholic.

Jacobs, a freshman who in six months has made an outstanding record, serves on the same education and labor committee with Barden, where the aid-to-education bill is now bottled up. Citing the late Al Smith on the separation of church and state, Jacobs contends that a great many Catholics disagree with Cardinal Spellman.

"As long as we have the same right to send our children to public school as anyone else we are not discriminated against," congressman Jacobs says in a special statement to Catholics. "And as Catholics we do not have the right to a separate, publicly supported school system, nor does any other group of people have such right.

"Whatever can be constitutionally done to aid a child will win my support. However, I cannot and will not support any measure that grants public financial aid to private or parochial schools.

"We have the right to build and maintain our churches," continued the Indiana Democrat, "but not to build or maintain them with public funds. Our parochial schools are an adjunct of our religion, established for educational use instead of using public schools, solely for the sake of the child's religious training.

"The issue is clear. Either you keep parochial schools and maintain them or take public funds and convert them into public schools, and they will then no longer serve the religious purpose for which they were established."

• • •

Barden's Convictions.

CONGRESSMAN Barden of North Carolina, whom Cardinal Spellman has attacked, is a quiet, hard-working, middle-of-the-roader who is viewed in Congress as anything but a bigot. Actually, he agrees with Cardinal Spellman on many things, especially on the point that the federal government should not control education.

Barden is a man of deep, fighting convictions, and one of these is that we must raise our public-school standards.

"I happen to be a Presbyterian," says Barden. "But I don't believe it's the duty of the government to provide money for Presbyterian schools any more than for the private schools of Methodists, Catholics, Quakers, Episcopalians or any other faith."

Barden was a battler for better education long before he came to Congress in 1934. As a member of the North Carolina legislature he led the fight for the improvement of both white and colored schools.

The fact that Negro schoolteachers are now paid the same as white, and that money is divided impartially between Negro and white school buildings and transportation is due in part to Barden's untiring efforts.

"I am wrong about as often as the next fellow," says the North Carolina congressman. "But I try to be always sincere. My constituents don't blame me if I make a mistake once in awhile. However, if they ever find me wrong and insincere at the same time, I expect them to get after me plenty — and rightly so."

• • •

British Business Crisis.

PAUL HOFFMAN, the Marshall Plan administrator, held a secret conference with top government officials last week to report on the British financial crisis.

Britain, according to Hoffman, had bungled its way into a first-class recession that may lead all Europe into a depression and wreck the Marshall Plan.

Hoffman was especially bitter about Britain's trade deal with Argentina, said it is typical of the way Britain has refused to practice what it preaches.

He intimated that if Britain doesn't show more signs of cooperation he may cut off Marshall Plan aid — if Congress doesn't beat him to it.

Tom Finletter, head of the ECA mission to Britain, was present at this briefing, and agreed that Britain would have to take drastic action in a hurry to keep from going bankrupt and dragging all Europe under with it. This is something the Russians have been praying for ever since the cold war started.

• • •

Navy Lobby.

ONE top Navy man has finally seen fit to take on the arrogant Navy League. He is Undersecretary of the Navy Dan Kimball, who has written a strong letter to Frank Hecht, the Navy League's high-pressure president, urging him to pipe down.

Kimball pointed out that Secretary Johnson's actions in ordering two battleships converted into flattops made a great deal of sense to the Navy. For it will now have two more flattops in a year and a half rather than wait for the supercarrier which might take over five years.

Kimball has asked Hecht to apologize to Secretary Johnson for his criticism. It will be interesting to see if Hecht follows this advice.

Let's Talk About Furs

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK — Why I have mink on the mind while the pavements are melting is traceable to a concentration of events (Heat affects me this way) growing out of the current dollar-down fur coat sales, a Broadway column and the congressional blues being moaned by the whole fur industry.

Taking up the last issue first, in logical manner, the industry over on Seventh avenue is not only suffering from the heat but the inhumanity of Congress.

The nation's legislators, always quick to defend American Womanhood, are considering House bill 3755 or "A Fur Products Labelling Act." If this inhumane-to-furriers peice of legislation becomes law, the current noms de theatre of a number of erewhon (It's the humidity) furs will be outlawed.

Marmot, a real high class alias for the pelt of the humble prairie dog, woodchuck and gopher, will be the first to go. Modom has been wearing marmot for ages.

But if Congress forces the industry to drop this name, is there any force in the world, including a sawed - off shot - gun, that will persuade modom to war a coat plainly tagged "prairie dog"

"Gopher" is kinda short on romance, too. And the fur industry is certain that a rose, in this case, by any other name has a lot more moxie and is a good bit easier to sell.

Truth is a very fine thing in its place, but is its place on the tag of a fur coat?

As if this legislative threat were not enough hot weather anguish for the fur industry, I read in a Broadway column that when the cold winds do blow and we shall have snow, a fur coat which looks the spittin' image of mink will be on the market for $400.

Even in this heat, such news galvanized me to action. I was amind to order a floor length model, as well as some assorted shawls, lap robes and bath mats. But the furrier who made this sensational announcement to a shell pin ear has turned shy, taken the veil and gone into retirement.

• • •

Not On Bargain Counter.

HOWEVER, always hopeful and full of greed, I went to see Miss Esther Dorothy, the lady with the confusing name who almost single handed has turned the mink into the missing link in the past fifteen years.

Miss Dorothy, an indomitable woman furrier who wouldn't know the Mendelian law from HR 3755, nonetheless is largely responsible for all these new shades in mink—white, kohinoor, silver blue, royal pastel, aleutian, and an improbable something called "breath of spring."

She was busy planning pink, purple and buttercup yellow mutations when I reached her shop in mid-town.

When I broached the problem of the $400 coat that looks like mink, Miss Dorothy dashed my hopes forever.

"If it looks like mink it is mink, and it won't cost any li'l ole ittsy-bittsy $400," she said flatly.

A girl should be able to get a real nice, mink coat not floor length or with gold lining, for around $3,000 this autumn, Miss Dorothy said. Sorta of a utility or service model.

"Down from the war - time peak of $5,500 for the same coat, she added briskly.

Miss Dorothy was deep in her mink genealogical tables. So I thought this as a good a time as any to ask how she arrives at all these varmint mutaions on her farm, literally mink lined.

Miss D, to my amazement, said it is all a matter of table manners. If little minks eat noisily, greedily and get their mother's milk on their whiskers, they are no good for breeding stock.

But if they eat real dainty, always remembering to fletcherize and never to talk with their mouths full, Miss D. snatches them for breeding stock.

"And if I ever find one eating with a fork and knife, that'll be the day!" said Miss Dorothy. "Solid sable, probably."

Miss Dorothy has bred and cross - bred minks until the poor things hardily recognize themselves any more. But she said that they can be too highly bred, adding happily:

"Minks are just like royal families. Breed 'em too highly and they all turn out to be idiots."

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

MEMBERS of the Supreme Court finally came to one unanimous decision . . . they agreed without dissent to knock off work for three months.

• • •

It was either quibble or quit until October and they loyally agreed to quit. . .. And so would any other man who had to wear a hot kimono on the job.

• • •

It would be interesting to know why the law is supreme when dressed in a flowing robe with long hem-line and shirred shoulders.

• • •

Anyway, in it's final decision the court ruled 5-4 that anything a chambermaid sees through a keyhole is not legal evidence.

Farmer's Diary

Matter of Education

By CALVIN A. BYERS

JIM is a young veteran who recently took over the management of a small-fruits farm, after his father's death. He told me about Phil, and showed me Phil's last letter.

"Phil's a fine-appearing boy—a distant cousin of mine who lives in Detroit. He came out here for a few days last spring, and I liked him from the first. He's polite, eager for anything new, and my how he does enjoy my mother's cooking! He almost fifteen and can do a man's work with machinery.

"I told him I might take him along with me on the combine this summer, if he'd like to go. Offered to give him a share of the earnings, so he'd have money to run him through next winter. He was all for it.

"We were setting out strawberry plants that day. I showed him just how to do it—just how deep to set the plants so the roots would be covered and the crown exposed to the light. If you cover the crowns with dirt," I told him, 'they'll suffocate. . . then I left him to finish out the row while I repaired the spray rig.

"By noon, he was up at the house, hungry and grinning broadly. Said he'd finished all the plants, and now what? I told him he was a fast worker—too fast. I thought to myself—and I set him to plowing corn in the afternoon and told him to water the young cattle in the west pasture before he came up for supper. He had helped me do it and knew how to prime the pump.

"Well, he zoomed through that corn field at second speed,—he was good with the tractor—and I saw him disappear over the rise toward the west field just a little after 5:30. Supper was always at six. I knew he hadn't had time to water all those steers when he came in, hung up his hat, and said, "I finished the field. Everything's done."

"You watered the cattle, did you?"

"Sure—two or three of those big ones are beauties."

I hated to doubt him, but I walked across the strawberry field and half the plants were withering with roots exposed, others had been planted two or three plants in a hill. I was glad he did only one row.

Then I went to the pasture and those cattle were mouthing a nearly dry trough. So that week-end when Phil went home he asked 'How soon will you need me for that combine job? A fellow in town offered me some work . . ."

"And I said 'Sorry, Phil. I don't need you any more—not this year anyway. I have to have somebody who can do as directed and who won't think it is smart to cheat.'

"He was mad at first. But he thought it over, and the town job didn't pan out, so he wrote and asked to come back and do chores for his board and to learn what I would teach him. Pretty good boy, after all . . . only that about the combine will have to stick. Maybe another year we can go partners—he's really good with machinery."

As Cerf Tells It

The agent who handled Edna Ferber's very first novel, Dawn O'Hara, back in 1911, is Flora May Holly, now crowding eighty but still lecturing on current books, and cutting lively capers at the Stamford Women's Club. When Russell Janney journeyed there to lecture on his Miracle of the Bells, he vanished mysteriously on his way to the auditorium and was discovered some minutes later locked in the washroom. The committee persuaded Mr. Janney it was an accident but Miss Holly has never since been entrusted with the key.

PASTURE—General view of the bluegrass pasture at Malabar Farm showing the sprinkler irrigation pipeline in place and an employe carrying one of the 20 foot sections of six inch aluminum pipe. Main barn building group of Malabar is shown in the background.

★ ★ ★

Irrigation System Freshens Malabar

Dry weather is no threat to pastures and grain and vegetable crops on Louis Bromfield's Malabar Farm.

He has his own irrigation system which can be moved about the farm to supply water wherever it's needed.

Bromfield has found portable sprinkler irrigation particularly effective at Malabar because of the farm's gently rolling topography. Large sections of aluminum irrigation pipe can easily be transported from field to field and laid up and down slopes.

Complete soil and water conservation instituted at the farm provides an abundance of springs, natural ponds and reservoirs on the property. These, together with a brook at the west end of the farm supply more than enough water to supplement rainfall for growing crops.

Portable sprinkler irrigation at Malabar is divided into two separate systems. The first consists of a high pressure network providing rapid coverage of pasture and hay crops on the entire farm and includes 1,200 feet of six-inch aluminum main line pipe plus 1,000 feet of four-inch aluminum pipe with quick couplers serving two large sprinklers. Service is provided by a large Gorman-Rupp portable pump.

The second system is somewhat smaller, and uses proportionately smaller sprinklers designed to create a "gentle" rain for cultivated garden soils on the farm.

SYSTEMS FIT SOILS

Both systems at Malabar farm are engineered to fit the soils, crop and topography of the area they serve. According to Bromfield, supplemental irrigation has now become an important practice in furthering soil and water conservation on all parts of the farm.

New pasture areas and hay seedings can be quickly and safely developed by adding soil moisture at the right time. Cultivated crops on rolling land are contour planted and are adaptable to portable irrigation if rainfall is not sufficient to produce a full crop.

Pasture irrigation, using six-inch aluminum pipe as a main supply line with four-inch aluminum irrigation pipe as lateral lines, is supplied from a small creek runing north and south through the west end of the farm.

A gasoline-powered, five-inch centrifugal pump services this system from a "stationary" position on the cheek bank. Main supply line is laid up the slope, with lateral lines placed at right angles on the land contour.

The large, water-cooled pump delivers maximum supply to the two giant sprinkler heads at 100 pounds pressure. Its gasoline engine is cooled by a heat exchanger system utilizing creek water.

GARDEN SUPPLIED

Near the eastern boundary of Bromfield's property, a large garden plot is supplied by a smaller system. A gasoline operated, 2½-inch pump delivers approximately 120 gallons per minute at 45 pounds pressure from a raised reservoir through a network of Alcoa aluminum irrigatiaon pipe equipped with eight sprinkler heads.

Any line of crops in this cultivated plot can thus be irrigated at will by simply moving lateral lines, consisting of several sections of pipe, to another outlet on the main line, an operation that takes only a few minutes.

It is expected that increased crop yield through portable sprinkler irrigation in garden areas at Malabar will be appreciable. Malabar also is currently pioneering the popular grass farming approach in this central Ohio area. Through systematic sprinkler irrigation, Bromfield expects blue grass permanent pasture lots along the creek to increase their load and eliminate the necessity of 40 to 50 days pasturing in hay and grass silage growing fields.

DRAWS WATER—Water is drawn from the stream by this irrigation pump to supply the pasture irrigation system. The pump has a capacity-pressure range of 625 g. p. m. at 120 lbs. pressure to 1250 g. p. m. at 60 lbs. and easily provides the needed 800 gallons at 100 lbs. for the two giant sprinklers. Engine cooling is provided by a heat exchanger utilizing water pumped from the stream.

WATCHES—Author-Farmer Louis Bromfield looks on as irrigation pipeline is laid. His boxer shows more interest in the cameraman than the pipe.

INSPECTS SPRINKLERS—Farm Manager Bob Huge and one of the famous Malabar boxers inspect the pasture irrigation system in operation. The giant sprinklers each handle 400 gallons per minute at 100 lbs. pressure covering an area of more than two acres. As the picture illustrates, the water feathers off the sprinkler system to create a rain-like distribution over area.

Galion Perfection Steel Employes Prefer No Unionization

Run-Off Vote Supervised By NLRB

Conducted After June 22 Attempt

By CATHERINE RORICK
N - J State Correspondent

GALION — Majority of employes at Perfection Steel Body company voted for no union at the plant in a run - off election conducted yesterday by the National Labor Relations Board

The election was held to determine if the International Union of Operating Engineers (AFL), should be the bargaining agent for employes.

The run - off vote had been ordered by the NLRB after an inconclusive vote held June 22 which failed to produce a majority for either the IUOP or the International Association of Machinists, or rejection of a union.

Total number of votes cast yesterday were 215 out of a possible 260 eligible to vote The results were 133 voted no to the question: Shall the Engineers be the bargaining agent? There were 82 employes who voted "yes"

Paul Weingarten, field examiner of NLRB, conducted the election. The tellers were Robert E. Miller and William Mosher who represented the company, and Marion Newman who represented the IUOE.

When the vote was taken June 22, 219 employes voted, and results showed 107 favored no union, 70 favored the IUOE, and 41 favored the Machinists union. At that time, the United Steel Workers Union (CIO) attempted to secure a place on the ballot but were ruled off by the NLRB because officers of the union have not filed non - communist affidavits as required by the Taft - Hartley law.

Galion Unit Mails Forms

GALION—Questionnaires to all membership of the Galion Chamber of Commerce were mailed out today by the managing director, William Arnold.

From the answers he plans to outline a program for Galion. The questionnaires are entitled, "Blueprints for Galion's Tomorrow"

Arnold said he expects in this manner to find out what each member prefers as a project for the city, and give an opportunity to the small man of the community an opportunity to take part in the city's program.

His questions are: "What do you as a progressive business man feel are the most important community projects which the Chamber of Commerce should work on?" "Name several projects which you feel would help your business." "What specific projects or committees would you like to work on?"

Plymouth Grants Water Line Pact

PLYMOUTH—A contract has been let by the Plymouth Board of Public Affairs to the Fauber Construction company, Ashland, for a water line extension in the Willo-Root allotment, north of town.

The contract calls for the laying of 1,600 feet of four-inch water pipe in the allotment. The Fauber firm turned in the low bid of $4,800.

Shelby Water Action Valid

SHELBY — The technicality involving the passing of the ordinance covering Shelby's new water rates was clarified yesterday when William Depler, director of law, advised the clerk of city council the action taken by Mayor William Morris in approving the legislation when only three members of council had cast votes in favor of the ordinance, was valid.

Depler said the failure of the other two councilmen to vote had indicated acquiescence since the law casts upon each member, the duty of voting. By being present and refusing to vote when called upon to vote, they are presumed to acquiesce in the vote given

The technicality arose when Councilmen Ross Briggman, Ross Sipes and E. J. Schad voted in favor of the ordinance on all three readings and Councilmen, J. M Herlihy and E. E. Eckert had expressed their refusal to vote

Annual Day Camp Ends In Ashland

Girl Scouts and Brownies Frolic

By VIRGINIA LEED
N - J State Correspondent

ASHLAND — Ashland Girl Scouts and Brownies 250 strong were winding up their five-day camping period at Brookside municipal park today, ending the eighth annual day camp held under the sponsorship of the Ashland Girl Scout council.

With Mrs. Walter Bomeli and Mrs. E. G. S. Fulton as co - directors, the girls from second through sixth graders, have spent six hours daily at the park engaging in regulation Scout activities. Handcraft, free swims in the park pool, songs, nature hikes and nature study were included in the camp program.

To supervise the 250 girls there were 82 volunteer adult and high school leaders and helpers on hand throughout the week. The girls were divided into groups of 10 to 15, each choosing a name for its group and spending most of the day in individual group activities.

From the second grade Brownies who valiantly strung paste beads until they discovered the beads also made good eating to the sixth grade Scouts who had quite a time cooking a meal with utensils they fashioned from tin cans, the week was full of unexpected and hilarious incidents.

Mrs. Stuart Fluke and five assistants used the open cookhouse and electric roasters to prepare a complete noon meal for the more than three hundred girls and adult leaders each day. Hot meat sandwiches, plus relishes, milk, cookies and fruit constituted the noon meals prepared by the women.

Swim badges and cookout badges were earned by some of the girls during the week. Several hard rainstorms failed to upset the camp program as the biggest shelter house on the park was able to accommodate the entire crowd for the rain periods.

Longshoremen Win 14-Cent Pay Raise

HONOLULU — (UP) — Seven stevedoring firms involved in a two - month - old strike with CIO longshoremen agreed yesterday to accept the recommendation of a fact-finding commission for a 14-cent hourly wage increase. After a three-hour session last night, the employers said they would pay the wage boost although they regarded it as "unjustified" in the face of Hawaii's economic realities.

Group OK's Slashes In Excise Tax

Senate Committee Approves New Bill

WASHINGTON —(UP)— The Senate Finance Committee yesterday approved a bill to make cuts ranging up to 75 per cent in excise taxes. The cuts would apply to taxes on travel and admission tickets, telephone and telegraph bills, and some so-called luxuries.

It approved by a 7 to 6 vote a bill which it had rejected previously.

Not affected by the bill are taxes on liquor and cabaret checks. But it would slash taxes on jewelry, furs, toilet preparations, other luxury items and admissions, travel and communications.

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson, D., Colo., sponsor of the bull, estimated it would cut government revenue around $550,000,000.

Generally, the bill whould reduce excise taxes from their wartime highs to the levels which prevailed in 1942.

The proposed cuts include:

Admissions – reduce the tax from one cent for each five cents of ticket price to one cent on each 10 cents. (A 50 per cent cut).

Jewelry, furs and toilet preparations–reduce from 20 per cent of cost to 10 per cent. (A 50 per cent cut).

Luggage and handbags–eliminates the present 20 per cent tax on retail purchases and restores a 10 per cent tax on manufacturers.

Travel–cuts taxes on tickets, seats and berths from the present 15 per cent to 10 per cent. (A 33-½ per cent cut)

Local telephone–reduces taxes from 15 to 10 per cent. (A 33-½ per cent cut.)

Long distance telephone– reduces toll taxes from 25 to 20 per cent. (A 20 per cent cut.)

Telegrams and leased wires cuts taxes from 15 per cent to 10 per cent. (A 33-½ per cent cut.)

Light bulbs–from 20 per cent present rate to 5 per cent. (A 75 per cent cut.)

Cameras and photographic equipment–from 25 per cent to 10 per cent. (A 60 per cent cut.)

Camera film–from 15 per cent to 10 per cent. (A 33-one third per cent cut.)

Use Care In Plant Feeding

By DEAN HALLIDAY
(Central Press Association)

In common with all plants, dahlias like a bit of food now and then, but they don't like too much at one time.

Once the buds are well on their way, it is safe to give dahlias some fertilizer, but not until this time. Dahlias seem to resent having fertilizer forced on them when the plants are young and are very likely to become stunted

Extra feeding of each dahlia plant, however, can help to develop the size of the blooms. This should e done about six weeks in advance of the time you hope to cut large blooms

The open trench method of feeding is illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph. This is the safest. Liquid manure or sheep manure, in addition to bone meal and some type of potash can be used for these extra feedings. The trenches can also be used for watering the plants if a dry spell sets in After watering or feeding, the trench should be filled in with soil, as illustrated.

One of the secrets of fine dahlia flowers, and this aplies to large as well as small types, is to keep the plants growing at all times. Cutting of the flowers for home use is definitely encouraged as this induces new growth and additional quantities of flowers. Seed pods should not be allowed to form.

Watch dahlias for tarnished plant bugs, one of which, enlarged, is illustrated. They hide in the tips of the branches and sting the buds. To find them shake the plants gently and they will fly out. A spray containing DDT will eliminate them. Research indicates that as the tarnished bug feeds on dahlias it injects a substance into the sap which acts as a poison on the plants.

Food Prices Hold Steady

(By Associated Press)

Housewives stocking the larder for the long holiday weekend will find very few price changes from a week ago.

Lamb cuts were trimmed several cents a pound in some stores which were slow to follow the general price slashing of last week. But beef, pork and veal were about unchanged.

Poultry was a little cheaper in some marketing centers, with fryers cut two to four cents a pound to attract shoppers planning picnic menus. Most dairy prices held steady, although top quality eggs eased a penny or two a dozen in a few places.

Even in the produce department price adjustments were relatively minor except in areas where near-drought conditions and high temperatures damaged crops. Unfavorable weather reduced lettuce supplies in the northeast, for example, and shipments hurried from California were bringing prices several cents a head higher than the nearby crop.

Set Price On Highway

Defense' Road Plan Given To Congress

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The Public Roads administration put an $11,266,400,000 price tag on the proposed 37,800-mile national trunk highway system yesterday.

In a report to Congress on "highway needs of the national defense," it called for a sevenfold increase in the current construction rate and said the trunkline must be completed within 20 years.

It also recommended stockpiling of enough highway and bridge materials for a "continous" six-month reserve against the possibility of war or a major peacetime disaster.

And it urged that highway authorities be represented on all boards created to select sites for military and strategic industrial establishments or to ration war-essential materials that are in short supply.

The route itself--it criss-crosses every state and 1,160 of the nation's approximately 3,000 counties—was disclosed in detail a year ago.

It was designated, as directed by Congress in 1944, "to connect' the principal metropolitan areas, cities and industrial centers, to serve the national defense, and to connect at suitable border points with routes of continental importance in Canada and Mexico."

DEFENSE RESTS—Alger Hiss and his wife Priscilla seem in good spirits as they leave Federal court building in New York, where Hiss took the witness stand in his perjury trial and denied allegations by Whittaker Chambers that he stole State Department papers for communist agents. He also denied he was a communist, ever had been one, or had been a sympathizer. After a lengthy witness stand appearance by Mrs. Hiss, the defense rested its case late yesterday.

Four-State Dope Ring Smashed

CINCINNATI — (UP) — A marijuana ring operating in four states was smashed with the arrest of three persons here, police said today.

A 50-pound can, a shopping bag, five quart jars and a pint of marijuana were seized in a raid on a west end home yesterday by vice squadsmen and narcotic agents.

Agents said the home was apparently the distributing headquarters for outlets in Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and West Virginia.

And I hope I get a wife who can fry them like they do at the Mifflin Inn.

Befriending Obscure Bookie Sets Virginia Hill Up On Easy Street

Novelette: The legends have been many regarding the source of heavy coin spent by Virginia Hill when she picked up night club tabs for "everyone in the house" . . . One yarn had it that she was an heiress, but this was debunked by one of her brothers some time ago.

Other erratum was that she owned oil wells in Mexico and that rich suitors gave her $1,000 bills instead of costly gems. . . . This is the lowdown: She began her career during the New York World's Fair as an Eyeful in "Streets of Paris." . . . A chap fell in love with her. He was an obscure bookie from Chicago. . . . . He mailed her a $100 bill now and then "to have a good time." . . . He got in a jam—and was jailed for six months. . . . He kept sending her coin "in case you need it."

When he got out he was broke. . . . To his amazement she sent him all the money he gave her—about $1,500. . . . He never met a woman like that before !. . . He got back into the chips—big.

And the $1,500 Virginia Hill returned to him—became an annuity for life. . . . He has never stopped sending her chunks of coin—and while he lives—she will never need money.

Sallies in Our Alley: Billy Rose, wilting from the humidity, sought refuge in air - cooled Lindy's. He joined another columnist and started talking shop . . . "Well," he said, "I think I've found out what you must have discovered long ago. Doing a column is like carrying a safe on your back" . . . "It isn't so tough," was the Retort Ho-Hum, "when you know the combination" . . . A bore was annoying Vic Damone, who recently had a Nose Bob.

"Can you smell any better with your new nose?" he teased . . . "No," was the snapper. "I didn't even know you were here!"

Memos of a Midnighter: Irving Berlin took his favorite 47th Street barber to Philadelphia for the tryout there of "Miss Liberty" . . . Chicago's new comic, Bobby Sargent, debuts at the Palace July 25th . . . His intimates hear that if DiMaggio's heel keeps him from playing, he may inherit the managership of a floundering Chicago team . . . Lenny Kent, the comic, is driving his wife to Las Vegas for her divorce.

Broadway Confetti: Does Longchamps know there's a Shortchamps Luncheonette at 139 W. 40th? . . . Deb Pamela Curran has a young Greek shipping magnate maaad for her. Waits near her home until she gets in — as her escort's eyebrows Tilt If is High.

They had to cancel a Folies Bergere performance at Manchester (England) because a burglar thefted the entire troupe's trousers . . . Lena Horne's latest serious suitor is James Edwards of the "Home of the Brave" film. A long-distance romance . . . Joe Louis' chums will put up their money that Ruby Dallas is Joe's No 1 — no matter what you hear . . . Ruth Chatterton, the stage star, has written her first novel. Simon & Schuster have it.

Item I've Never Read Before: Mrs. Alger Hiss, whose husband is accused by Whittaker Chambers, ex - Time editor, was formerly marred to a lad named Hobson, also an editor at Time.

Manhattan Murals: The Paramount Tower clock trying to set a Good Example by dousing its lights at 1 a. m. . . . The ad exec who keeps 150,000 bees atop his RCA penthouse office . . . The swank candy store on 5th Avenue, which has a door-opener and a footman

New York City Composed of Best Parts of America Knit Together

OH, I TELL YOU NEW YORK is a wonderful town!

It must be fine or there wouldn't be so many people crowded here together to enjoy it.

It's really a terrible place to visit or die in, but a grand town to live in.

For here the poor man has courage, and fights for his rights. He's as good as a millionaire any day, and he'll stay up all night to tell you why. Yes, rich or poor, you're just another number here, and sometimes it's pleasant to wonder whether you're 8,675,341 or maybe 1,435,768. Who cares?

There is one thing sure: You can never be Mr. Number One. Because nobody is big enough to be really important on this $24 island. You have to belong to it—it can never belong to you. This is a man's town, and it's cut for size. It has outgrown everybody who ever lived in it—and it's still growing.

And the people who live in it are growing, too. The fat-voiced tourists come here and look around and shake their heads and leave again, saying, "after all, New York City isn't America."

But New York City is America, and there is no town more American. Because here people are really working toward the kind of democracy the best of the country reads about in high school civics books.

There are only a few cities in the world that are really cities — London for courage, Paris for loveliness, Calcutta for misery, Shanghai for sin, Rome for healing and hurt, Athens for blue skies, Cairo for gold and intrigue, Naples for a merry heart and a dirty face, Berlin, the tomb and womb and anvil of war, Moscow for mockery of human rights, and Washington, where every man who has been elected twice can hope for a marble monument.

★

And, of course, there are smaller cities with a breadth of mind — say Philadelphia, say St. Louis, say Baltimore, say New Orleans, say San Francisco, the city with the singing name, or Boston, the only place I know where nobody hollers against $2 bills. They are all old cities, each marked by an antique bigotry or prejudice of its own and stamped by an individual careless freedom, too, as all old cities are.

Wrap them all together and you'll almost have New York — but not quite.

For there is nothing as tremendous as this tremendous village, America's long dream pushed into a few square miles of struggle and grope, where people move like moles underground and hope in terms of towers.

Never a day dawns here but my spirit feels taller on the way to work from seeing the Empire State building shoulder the morning mist, comforting as a fairy tale in an hour of fear. And never an evening sun sinks down without my spirit wearying from the sight of some ugliness that dwells here, too, in men and buildings.

Oh, but theyre growing better, the men and the buildings and the city they make up. Here if you have a prejudice you have to keep it silent. Because if you say it out loud, the other fellow will haul you into court, and the judge will fine you and make you feel ashamed. Some day there won't be even a silent prejudice left here, and the sea winds will wash over a clean city, all the way from Staten Island to the Bronx.

New York is opportunity. They put the Statue of Liberty in the right place, and more and more the old girl feels she belongs here. She still holds her lamp before the golden door, and the door is New York City, where all who enter find home and welcome — and the equal chance that all men ask.

Three Hurt In Traffic Accidents

Five Highway Mishaps Reported

Three persons were injured last night and early today in five traffic accidents in and near the city. Two of three drivers cited on traffic violations were fined today in municipal court.

Injured were:

Wilbert Furr, 17, of Shelby, R. D. 2, admitted to General hospital shortly after 9 a. m. today when a car sideswiped his motorcycle on U. S. Route 30-N, five miles west of the city.

A. G. Beal, 69, of 38 Bradford avenue, a guard at the Mansfield reformatory, who suffered lacerations and bruises in a two-car accident at Grace and Wayne streets at 7 a. m. today.

Peggy Wenning, three-and-a-half-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wenning, 928 Burger avenue, injured last night when struck by a car near her home.

State highway patrolmen said the car which sideswiped the Furr cycle was driven by James M. Nold, 21, of West Point, N. Y. Nold told officers he started to pass a car and failed to see the cycle coming toward him. Furr, who was treated for body lacerations and bruises, was reported in "good" condition.

Police said Beal a passenger in a car driven by Harold R. Fleming, 38 Bradford avenue, and also an OSR guard, was injured when the Fleming car was struck by a car, operated by Charles F. Rumberger, 51, of Loudonville. Rumberger was fined $10 and costs in municipal court when he pleaded guilty to failure to yield the right of way.

The Wenning child, according to sheriff's deputies, suffered bruises on the forehead and legs, when struck by a car driven by Scott Earhart, 997 Burger avenue at 7:55 p. m. yesterday. Witnesses to the accident said Earhart was driving slowly and that the child darted out into the street in front of the car. The child was treated at General hospital and released.

LICENSE SUSPENDED

Andrew J. Zoll, 35, of 75 Massa avenue, was fined $150 and costs today in municipal court for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol. Zoll's driving license was also suspended for three years. Municipal court records showed that Zoll had been fined on similar charges twice before.

Police said Zoll turned his car in front of an auto driven by Arthur L. Queen, 166 Lexington avenue, causing a collision. The accident occurred at 9:30 p. m. yesterday on Lexington avenue.

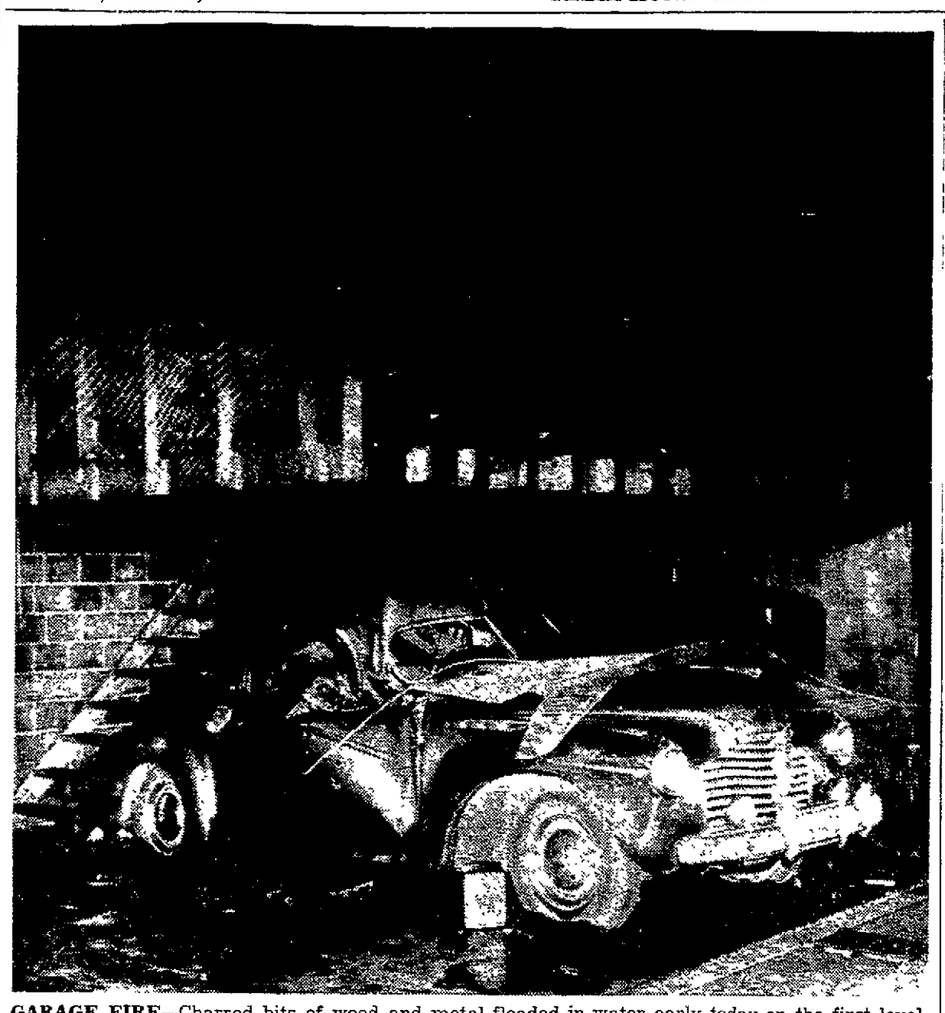
Hearing on two traffic violation charges against Climon Spruill, 12, of 819 Bowman street, was continued to Saturday today to change a charge of operating a motor vehicle without a temporary permit to driving while his license was revoked. Spruill was also cited for unsafe operation.

Police said Spruill's car collided with a car driven by Carlton N. Overmeyer, 238 Rowland avenue, while Overmeyer was stopped for the traffic light on North Adams at East Fourth street. Officers added that Spruill made a right turn from East Fourth onto North Adams, collided with Overmeyer's car, crashed into the front steps at 106 North Adams and continued on down the sidewalk approximately 25 feet before returning to the street. The accident occurred at 4:15 p. m. Police said no damage was caused to the porch steps.

Discuss Plans For Park Picnic

Members of the South and Maple Lake Parks association will hold their monthly meeting at the Hut in Maple Lake park at 8 p. m. Wednesday.

The group will discuss plans for a park picnic and hold an open forum on this year's carnival.



GARAGE FIRE—Charred bits of wood and metal floaded in water early today on the first level of the Anderson garage, 30 North Willis avenue, after firemen battled the blaze which broke out in the second-floor radio shop at 5 a. m. today. The three autos, shown in the foreground, were slightly damaged by water. Damage, firemen said; was confined to the radio shop where equipment was destroyed.

New Crestline Lions Club Receives Gifts

A gold bell and American flag were presented to the newly-organized Crestline Lions club at its Charter night program by the Mansfield and Galion Lions clubs. Mansfield and Galion members co-sponsored the new club and the gifts were accepted by Dr. Robert Tracht, in behalf of the Crestline Lions club.

A banquet in the Crestline high school cafeteria preceded the program. There were 98 members and guests at the Charter night ceremonies with Donald Bone, past president of the Fredericktown Lions club, serving as toastmaster. Dr. Oscar P. Cook, Crestline, was chairman.

Lee Dill, deputy grand governor of Centerburg, presented pins to each of the 21 charter members of the new club. The charter was presented by District Governor Alvin Frankhauser, of Mansfield, to Richard Ditwiler, Crestline club president, and explained the possibilities of the new club.

Charles Kafer, another Mansfield Lions club member, spoke about Lionism and its growth.

The invocation was given by Rev. S. A. Metzger, pastor of First English Lutheran church in Crestline, and music was furnished by an ensemble of six Crestline high school girls. Mayor A. P. Sonner extended the welcome greeting and Charles F. King, zone chairman, introduced the special guests.

BPW Head Warns Of Freedom Threat

Delegates to the national convention of Business and Professional Women's clubs, meeting today in Jacksonville, Fla., were warned of the dangers of bureaucracy in government and the threat of certain pressure groups operating in the country.

The speaker was Dr. K. Frances Scott of Northampton, Mass., president of the national BPW.

"May I suggest," Dr. Scott said, "that as good citizens our members concern themselves with those problems on our doorstep in order that democracy may survive."

There are no Mansfielders at the convention.

Mansfield Driver Reported Injured

Richard Moffett, 32, listed as a resident of Mansfield, suffered injuries in a traffic accident east of Lancaster, Pa., yesterday.

Moffett received a fractured right leg and lacerations when a truck in which he was riding struck a utility pole and plunged over an embankment.

Stores Furnaces On Furnace Street

ASHLAND — The Rybolt Heater company provided the Akron Chamber of Commerce's industrial department with a unique 90-degree weather problem. The Akron group was asked to find storage space for 1,000 furnaces.

John Caine, manager of the Akron unit, found the answer. He got space at a Furance street warehouse in Akron.

Paul Geary Re-Enlists In Navy In California

Paul Richard Geary, 313 Remy avenue, was accepted yesterday for re-enlistment in the Navy, according to recruiting officer R. McPheter, EMC.

Geary was transferred to the receiving station at Long Beach, Calif., where he is to be reassigned.

Draw 30-Day Suspensions

The liquor permits of two Mansfield cafes yesterday were suspended for 30 days following hearings before the state board of liquor control. The suspensions were announced today, in Columbus and will end at midnight, July 29. Proprietors of both places were charged with possession of gambling devices.

Suspended were the 3.2 beer permit of John and Harold George, doing business as the Coney Island Sandwich shop, 98 North Main street, and the beer and wine permit of Samuel Zivkov, doing business as Sam's Cafe, 859 Bowman street.

Du Pont 'Empire' Blasted

Action To Hit Stock Market

CHICAGO — (UP) — The most sweeping anti - trust suit in history, aimed at breaking up the nation's "largest single concentration of industrial power," probably will take years of legal maneuvering before it even comes to trial, experts said today.

The suit, filed yesterday by government attorneys, is intended to strip the sprawling Du Pont industrial empire of alleged controlling interests in General Motors corporation and the U.S. Rubber company.

Officials in the U.S. attorney general's office were preparing for a bitter fight to bring the case to trial as quickly as possible before Federal Judge Walter J. Labuy.

But past anti - trust trials showed that such proceedings usually wear on for month after month.

The defendants, including 128 members of the immensely wealthy DuPont family, were expected first to enter an answer to the government's suit, denying all charges and pleading for dismissal.

Then will come motions, probably demanding clarification of the government's charge and the status of various class defendants.

SEE 2-YEAR DELAY

Some federal court authorities believed it might take two years to bring the suit to trial.

They pointed to the civil anti-trust suit against optical goods manufacturers and opticians filed in 1946. That case hasn't come to trial yet.

The government's criminal anti-trust case against the Great Atlantic and Pacific grocery chain was started in Texas in 1942. It was not decided until 1946.

An anti - trust suit lodged against the nation's meat packers last year still is a long way from trial.

Financial experts warned that the suit may have a profound effect on the stock market, even before a decision is rendered.
